Traffic probe urged

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A demand for an investigation into the new traffic dangers caused by the elimination of a traffic light at Wayne and Eureka Roads has been sent to the Wayne County Board of Commissioners by the City Council.

The City Council on Sept. 26 became frustrated when two Wayne County road representatives could not answer questions from the council adequately.

Councilman Ellis Pennington told the two county employees "we know you want safety like we do at this location, but I think that the county needs to install warning signs before you get to the Eureka Road traffic jam."

Councilman Michael Prybyla recommended that possibly a detour could be arranged, rather than have the periodical traffic jams occur at this busy intersection.

"... constant 15 minute traffic delays were becoming very trying on local motorists' nerves."

- Randy Gear
councilman

Councilman Randy Gear told the visiting county pair that the "constant 15 minute traffic delays were becoming very trying on local motorists' nerves."

Councilman Jimmie Raspberry urged the council to pass a resolution that would be sent to Wayne County Executive Ed McNamara and county commissioners stating the city was not getting any responsive answers from his representatives.

The resolution also told the commissioners, Romulus has "serious concerns about the health, safety and welfare of its citizens, who commute through this heavily traveled corridor and will not be held liable for any injuries sustained due to the changes made by the county."

Mayor Beverly McAnalley reminded the county that city funds were used to help pay for the traffic light installation.

Anthony, 5, and Justin, 4, Scaparo took part in the Red October Run.

The 1994 Annapolis Hospital Red October Run was a tremendous success with residents from throughout the western Wayne County area participating. Rick Brauer of Northville was the overall winner in the men's division. Janet Reinowski of Dearborn took first place in the women's division. Residents from Inkster, Belleville, Canton Township, Wayne, Westland and Romulus, however, tried their best to beat the top runners in the various races. Those who participated included, but were not limited to: Michele Mayberry-13 of Wayne; Steve Caris-24 of Westland; Drew Berger-29 of Inkster; Dawn Mayberry-26 of Westland; Gregory Lansfield-33 of Westland; Dale Lasher-32 of Canton; Norm Freda-33 of Canton; Bryan Vartanian-31 of Canton; Matt Myers-34 of Wayne; Mark Solarz-34 of Wayne; Edith Trudgeon-50 of Romulus; and Pat Twitchell-44 of Belleville. The October Run also included a walk. Refreshments were provided throughout the event. MCN photo by Kimberly Woloskie

Embezzlement trial slated in May

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A motion to dismiss the criminal embezzlement charges against former 34th District Court Administrator Nancy Schuette was denied last Friday by Recorder's Court Judge Craig Strong in Detroit.

Strong ruled Schuette's trial on three embezzlement charges stemming from a $270,000 financial shortfall at the 34th District Court in Romulus has been set for May 1.

Schuette's attorney Marvin Blake attempted to prove that the state had failed to provide sufficient evidence to sustain the charges at the preliminary hearings in 29th District Court in Wayne last summer.

While most of the evidence provided by Assistant Michigan Attorney General Mark E. Blumer was circumstantial, Strong ruled that enough evidence had been put forward to warrant a full trial next year.

Schuette's arrest came after a six-month audit was conducted by agents of the State Supreme Court and the Michigan State Police.

Blumer alleges that Schuette took an unspecified amount of the missing court money by voiding erroneous transactions while she served as court administrator. He said the state is not contending that she took the entire amount of missing money.

If convicted, Schuette could receive a 10-year court sentence and/or fines of up to $15,000.

2 tax abatement bids approved

A pair of six year tax abatements were approved by the Romulus City Council Monday night.

The first approved abatement plan was for Oakite Products, manufacturer of specialty chemicals, and was for $190,000 in land improvements, $2.3 million in building improvements and $985,000 in personal property upgrades. The proposed project will fabricate large tarps for and create 20 new jobs.

In an unrelated matter, the council also approved a liquor license transfer from the recently closed Baldo's Restaurant on Wayne Road to Leonardo's Pizza Inc. at 7555 Merriman Road.

The pair also own J and V Construction Inc.

Teen killer faces adult prison term

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Bruce Jones, father of slain former Romulus High School star athlete Chris Jones, feels his battle to change the state juvenile sentencing law is beginning to show results.

Jones has been pressing local and state officials to have the state's judicial law changed, so that other families will not have to undergo the stress his family has faced since his son was slain by a 15-year-old Taylor resident last Feb. 22.

Last Friday afternoon Jones felt the first feeling of accomplishment, as Recorder's Court Judge Gershwin Drain ruled that he would sentence the juvenile defendant, Nathan Younce, this week as an adult.

On Aug. 31 Younce was convicted as an adult of manslaughter, assault with intent to do great bodily harm and illegal use of a firearm. But a technicality permitted Judge Drain to sentence Younce as a juvenile, despite the adult charge and conviction.

This possibility infuriated Jones and the concerned dad fired off an open letter to Judge Drain prior to the judicial ruling. He also mailed copies of the letter to Gov. John Engler, state Attorney General Frank Kelly, Wayne County Prosecutor John O'Hair and 22nd District State Rep. Gregory Pitoniak.

Jones vowed he would continue to fight until the Michigan State Legislature changes the state sentencing law to read that youths give up their right to be sentenced as juveniles, when they use weapons (such as guns and knives) in the commission of a crime.

He said if the judge had ruled last week that Younce would be sentenced as a juvenile, then Younce would be released at the age of 21 and would have no public police record.

That type of sentencing

Anti-casino leader warns Romulus

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The Rev. Dr. John Mecartney, who worked in the last two Detroit anti-casino drives, visited Romulus Sunday to warn residents that "casinos break all of the 10 commandments."

Mecartney, who is a retired United Methodist pastor, is active with the Michigan Interfaith Council on Alcohol Problems (MICAP), a group that fights various types of addictions.

He volunteered Sunday to speak at the regular religious service at the Community United Methodist Church in Romulus and warned that "casino gambling is addictive and Romulus is threatened because six percent of those who visit casinos become addicted."

Mecartney said he became alarmed about the potential plight of the city after reading and hearing media reports that former Chrysler Corp. Chairman Lee Iacocca had already had talks with Mayor Beverly McAnalley on possibly setting up Native American casinos in Romulus in the future.

He retired pastor called "casinos the enemy of God and those who worship casinos become alienated from God."

Casino workers and those who visit them many times violate the Sabbath commandment, Mecartney said, and then issued a twin warning that 40 percent of all fraud is connected with gambling and the suicide rate is higher in areas where casinos flourish.

Mecartney also said that casino promoters bear "false witness" and cited Atlantic City as a prime example.

"They promised that Atlantic City would be gloriously remade and after more than 10 years that has proved to be not true," he said.

Mecartney claimed that one third of Atlantic City's businesses closed down after casinos opened and decried the "jobs, jobs, jobs" message casino supporters stress.

"In reality the average income of a casino worker is $7,339," he said.

Mecartney said he wasn't surprised that the regional media gave so little play to Mount Clemens voters soundly rejecting casinos by a vote of 74-26, because some major newspapers trim any anti-casino messages or even refuse to publish some such information.

He said Native American casinos eliminate U.S. civil liberties and cannot be voted out, once they are established.

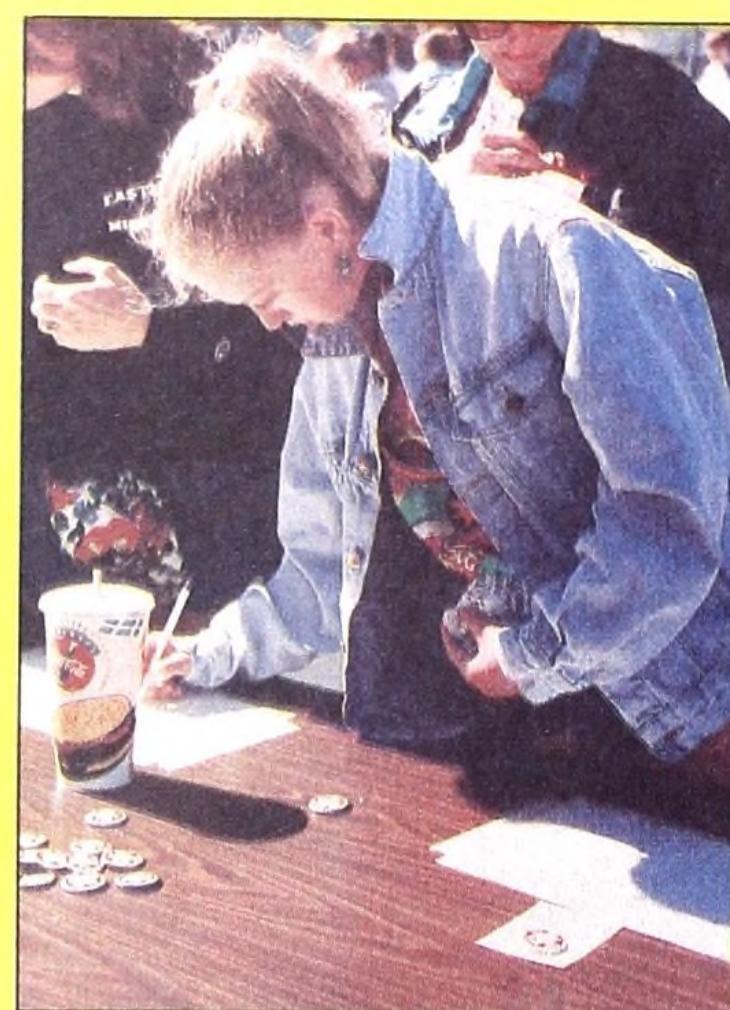

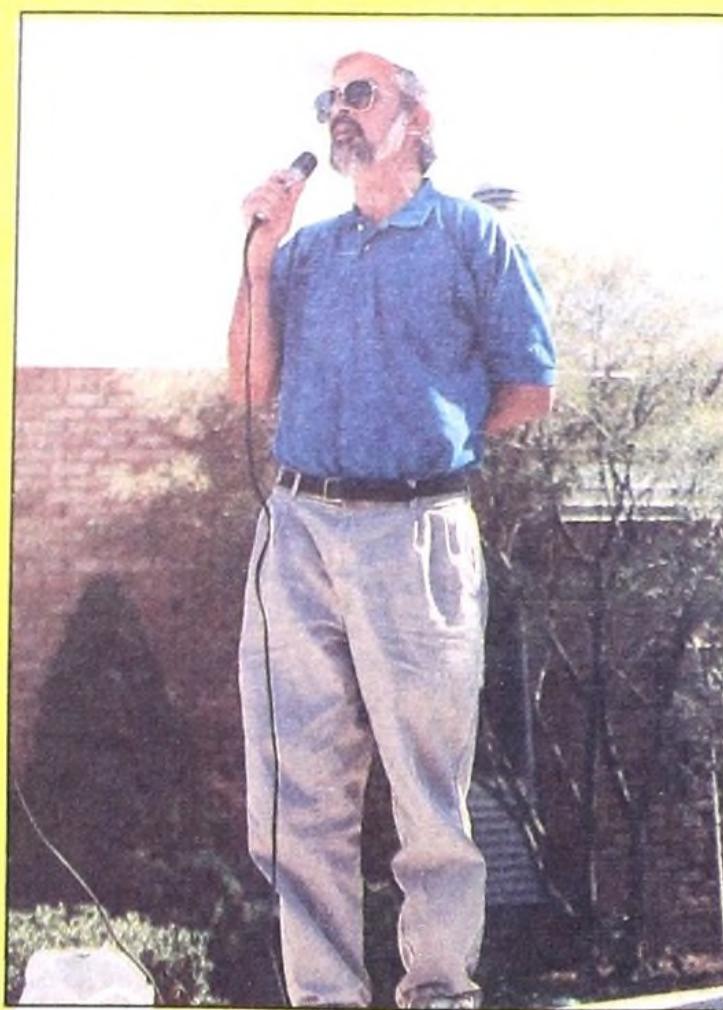

In conclusion, Mecartney urged Christians to write to Gov. John Engler and thank him for his decision against establishing off reservation Native American casinos.

As worshippers exited the church, Mecartney passed out copies of a letter to the editor published in the Detroit Free Press that was written by Joseph Beals, former president of the Wayne County Medical Society.

Beals wrote that he expected the "toll of human suffering is sure to increase" if casinos open in Detroit.

Beals also cited that crime had risen 200 percent in Atlantic City and more than 1,000 businesses within the city closed since casinos opened 1978.

Mecartney also urged residents to also write to Democratic candidate Howard Wolpe and urge him to change his mind on casinos.

270 walkers show their support for the hungry

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

More than 270 dedicated walkers turned out in brilliant sunshine Sunday afternoon for the annual Belleville-Romulus CROP walk to alleviate hunger in the area and the world.

CROP Walk Director John Hagan, pastor of Trinity Episcopal Church of Belleville said, "It was a wonderful and glorious day to give to the Lord and to help the hungry in the Belleville-Romulus area, as well as those around the world."

Hagan said that it would be December or later before local CROP leaders would have a close accounting of how much money was raised this year by area walkers.

The parking lot of the Community United Methodist Church began filling up shortly after 1 p.m. Sunday, as Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnalley kicked off the annual walk from Romulus to Belleville with a brief talk.

McAnalley looking into the bright sunlit skies declared that the walkers "were blessed with ideal weather." She offered the walkers "good luck" and then jokingly said "may the Methodists collect the most money."

Hagan asked for a raising of hands by walkers who had collected various levels of pledges of money.

Matthew McGrane of Romulus and his wife were among the early leaders, stating they had already collected pledges of more than $800.

The Rev. Brad Lewis of the Community United Methodist Church presented a brief blessing on the assembled walkers, who he declared "were offering both their time and money for the hungry here and around the world."

Lewis also prayed for a "safe walk" along the new route to Belleville on Sunday. The normal route was changed somewhat because of road construction projects currently under way in Belleville.

Hagan laughed Monday morning, when he said "one walker told us 'I've never walked the old route, but I like the new route much better.'

The walk organizer also praised the 40 to 50 volunteers, who manned trucks and vans to pick up the tired walkers, assisted at rest stops or helped serve the cookies, pizza, orange juice and coffee at the final stop, the Trinity Episcopal Church.

Hagan reminded the participants Sunday prior to the walk that the donations are due to be turned in at individual churches on Nov. 6.

Maureen Savage, Romulus coordinator, said more than 50 Romulus youth and adults were part of the group.

Homecoming tradition continues

By EMILY WHITE
Student Reporter

A yearly tradition of Homecoming swept through Plymouth-Salem High School last week centering on the theme "Let the Games Begin".

Each day, designated for different styles and colors of dress, enabled students to show their school spirit and fashion capabilities. The week started with sport hat day on Monday and team uniform day on Tuesday. Wednesday was devoted to class colors, calling for faculty to color coordinate with their students. Thursday was sweat day, while students finished up the week wearing their school colors - blue and white.

The Homecoming Court was nominated two weeks before Homecoming week. As the day got closer, the nominees were narrowed until Sept. 30 when the king and queen of the senior class were announced.

The king, Sam LaGrow, was announced at the pep assembly, which was staged in the Salem gym during sixth hour.

Also recognized were representatives for each class including: juniors Liz Pelter and Sean Alsobrooks, sophomores Amy Pomeroy and Matt Johnson, and freshmen Allison Green and Matt Mair.

As the week progressed, excitement filled the halls. Doors were decorated and judged on Sept. 30. Earlier that morning, the students found the halls draped with blue and white streamers, posters and other Homecoming decorations. The senior and freshman class tied for first place in the hall decorating competition.

The Salem Executive Forum was responsible for the pep assembly, half-time show, spirit week, court elections and other aspects of Homecoming, said Gierda Burnside, executive forum sponsor.

"This year's Homecoming was the greatest and most successful in Salem's history," she said. "The Executive Forum put in many days of hard work to plan and execute Homecoming."

The Homecoming Dance, conducted in Salem cafeteria, was also a success with ticket sell-out. Tickets for the Oct. 1 dance sold at $8 for singles and $16 for couples during Spirit Week.

Music was provided by DJ Kevin Gourieux, a former Plymouth-Canton student, from 7 to 11 p.m. He played a variety of music catering to the musical tastes of each student.

Gunman robs video store

A lone gunman robbed a woman attendant at the Empire Video Store on Eureka Road just before 4 p.m. Sunday and escaped with an undisclosed amount of cash.

The 19-year-old woman employee said the bandit appeared to be looking at various video displays when he first entered the store.

Then he produced a silver-colored gun and demanded "give me all the bills in the register and I won't hurt you."

After she surrendered the money, the victim said, the bandit ordered her to sit on the floor and then he fled. A police dog was called, but lost the gunman's scent a short distance from the store.

The bandit was described as being about six feet tall, dark skin, stocky build and was wearing a black hooded sweatshirt, black leather gloves and dark pants. He also was wearing a pair of white tennis shoes.

Library offers science program

A special hands-on science program for children in grades four through six is now being offered at the Romulus Public Library.

Youth Services Librarian Shelley DeLano said sign ups for the program have begun.

The program is sponsored by the Wayne County Library system and BASF Corp. The one hour program will feature hands on science experiments, an information video and possibly a head start on the yearly science project.

The program will be offered from 11 a.m. to noon Oct. 29 at the temporary Romulus Public Library Building at the Mount Pleasant Elementary School at 3900 Superior and Hannan Roads.

Interested families may obtain more information by calling 941-7369.

Finance director earns certificate

L. Donavon McGuire, city director of finance, has been presented with an award of Financial Reporting Achievement by the Government Finance Officers Association.

The award was in recognition of McGuire's annual financial report.

An accompanying letter with the award sent to Mayor Beverly McAnally states the "certificate is the highest form of recognition in the area of governmental accounting and financial reporting."

Homecoming parade slated on Oct. 14

A no fee permit for the 1994 Romulus High School Homecoming Parade was approved Monday night by the City Council.

The parade will begin at 5 p.m. Oct. 14 in the City Hall parking lot, and the route will follow Bibbins, north on Gabriel, west on Goddard Road, north on Ozga Road, east on Wick Road to Romulus Middle School.

New mini-mall plans okayed

An old motel building will be demolished and a new gas station/mini mart will soon be erected at 31414 Ecorse Road, commonly known as "The Wheel Truck Stop."

City Council has approved the special land use request and is pressing the petitioner, Ali Harajli, to begin the process as soon as possible.

City Councilman Ellis Pennington, who also serves on the Planning Commission, said when the original petition was filed "we were miles apart."

Pennington said the Planning Commission and city planner deserve a lot of credit for the current proposal. The owner has agreed to install the requested chain link fence, remove contaminated soil and will enforce no trailer parking.

The council approved the plans 6-0 with Councilman William Wadsworth absent.

Officer finishes academy

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Lt. Eric Painter, a 13-year veteran of the Romulus Police Department, recently completed an 11-week Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) National Academy study at Quantico, Va.

Painter is the second member of the Romulus Police Department to have graduated from the FBI National Academy. The first was Lt. David Early in 1988.

The 178th session of the FBI school that Painter graduated from included 260 participants from 48 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, three military organizations, five federal civilian organizations and 16 countries throughout the world.

FBI Director Louis J. Freeh was the principal speaker at the graduation ceremony.

Painter said his class was represented at the ceremonies by Santa Ana Police Lt. Felix G. Osuna, who incidentally will be taking part in the televised Oct. 15 Gator Ade Triathlon. Osuna has told his fellow academy classmates that he will be dedicating his televised run to the FBI class, Painter said.

The extensive physical and executive style training was paid for by the FBI, Painter said. In addition to on-going running and fitness projects, the members also took classes in forensic and technical services for managers, mass media and the police, microcomputers for managers, stress management in law enforcement, legal issues for command-level officers and chemical agents in law enforcement.

"Classes were held from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. each weekday," Painter said, "with some night time classes. But we still got plenty of free time to visit Washington, D.C. and other historical areas."

Painter said he was gratified and challenged by meeting the superb FBI unit staff and fellow classmates at the academy.

"I lost seven pounds and gained a tremendous amount of self esteem by mixing with such a group," Painter said. "Part of the package is my agreement to remain in law enforcement for at least another three years."

Since returning from the academy, Painter has continued the regimen of jogging extensively daily.

Prior to coming to Romulus, Painter spent two and a half years with the Flat Rock Police Department. His wife, Tammy, still is employed with the Flat Rock Police force.

Painter is looking forward already to the next gathering of FBI Academy alumni. The academy has already graduated 27,000 public safety officials of which 17,000 have remained active with the alumni program.

"The FBI Academy is an elite group," Painter stressed, "because you have to realize that there are over 600,000 law enforcement officials across the U.S."

Policeman promoted

Romulus Police Sgt. Daryl Poe, the first police officer hired by the city on May 16, 1981, was promoted to the rank of lieutenant last week. Poe, (second from right) who has been in charge of the department primary firearms program, will fill the almost year old vacancy caused by the promotion of administrative Lt. Robert Brown to police chief on Dec. 1, 1993. Brown said Poe also will take the lead in a number of future community based programs. ## Fourth Friday count down

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
MCN Staff Writer

Preliminary results from the fourth Friday count in the Wayne-Westland School District indicates enrollment is less than what district officials expected for this school year.

However, Superintendent of Schools Dr. Larry Thomas said he thinks the count will come in as projected. "The K-12 is low, but we do see an increase in adult and vocational education this year," Thomas said.

The early count indicates some 15,150 students are enrolled. That is 350 students less than projected by school officials. A final count will be taken this Friday.

"If the enrollment does come in lower than anticipated, the school budget will be $5,500 lower per student," Thomas said.

The district will do a preliminary phone in of the nu-mers to the state, however, officials have until this Friday, the fifth Friday, to give the state their final count due to the new state law, Greg Baracy, district superintendent of general administration said.

"They (students) will increase some. There are people that are still on vacation and people moving into the district. We hope we can meet our projections," however, Baracy said. "The K-12 count is a couple hundred down."

Challenger has strong family ties

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Joseph Slaven, a recent University of Michigan graduate, is seeking to take his family values all the way to Lansing.

Slaven, a Republican and Ross Perot admirer, knows he is facing an uphill battle in his quest to unseat Democratic incumbent 22nd District State Rep. Gregory Pitoniak (D-Taylor) next month.

But he feels the best way to show he supports family values, is by allowing his family to be his main campaign staff workers.

Slaven, who works long hours driving a truck for Downriver Building Supplies, is planning a last minute door-to-door solicitation of Romulus homes.

The 24-year-old first time candidate from Taylor is also planning on using his wife, Lisa; his dad, Ira Slaven (a retired Taylor fire inspector); his mom, Gayle; and any other family members who have spare time between now and election day.

Meanwhile his 20-month-old son, Tyler, will serve as the campaign motivator.

"I want to make sure that when my son reaches my age," Slaven said, "that government has returned to its basic roots and gets out of his wallet and backyard."

While he admits that he has voted for Pitoniak in the past, Slaven vows "enough is enough. Most people I talk to feel Greg plays the political game to the hilt and would prefer a state representative who will stand strongly on the side of the 22nd District taxpayers."

"My family members know

where I stand and they are willing to work on electing me. I plan to run again two years from now," Slaven said, "no matter whether I win or lose."

Being an unknown candidate has hurt Slaven's campaign in Romulus, as he claims "I lost over 120 political signs in Romulus during the primary season. So that just makes us more committed to meet the voters in their homes as we go down the home stretch."

Slaven said he will try to impress voters with the fact that he differs with Pitoniak on many issues. "I favor tougher drunk driving measures, which he voted against. I'm opposed to the state spending $800,000 on the Pontiac Silverdome Stadium, which he favored and I oppose salary hikes for state legislators at this time. Pitoniak voted for them."

Slaven said that a sample of Pitoniak's games has been evidenced when he waits until an election year to enter a bill that would block the opening of any commercial environmental injection wells in the state of Michigan.

"Why didn't he do something earlier," the challenger asks.

Killer

would be catastrophic for society, Jones said, and would definitely be sending the "wrong message to today's juveniles."

The hearing last week before Drain was delayed several times with last minute legal maneuvers and officially began shortly after 11 a.m.

Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Kevin Simowski initially called Probation Officer Thomas Zahon, who testified that Younce was on juvenile probation when he shot and killed young Jones outside a Romulus school building.

Younce, who will turn 16 on Dec. 7, has had serious trouble in various school systems since the fourth grade, Zahon said.

He has been accused of disruptive behavior in Detroit and Taylor schools, assault on a teacher and leaving a classroom without permission, the probation officer stated.

Zahon called Younce "out of control" and recommended that he be incarcerated in an adult system facility.

Called next was Social Service official Mark Redick, who stated that Younce was transferred from the Detroit school system to Taylor following a charge of battery on a teacher in 1989.

Younce's record also lists 36 days absent in 1990, 49 days absent in 1991 and seven suspensions (three for fighting) in 1992, Redick said. In addition he was suspended four times in 1993 and once was charged with using brass knuckles.

Redick made no recommendation for Younce's incarceration, since he could only make one for a juvenile facility. Redick said it is obvious from Younce's record that he had a "repetitive pattern of solving problems with violent actions," and thus would not be helped by sentencing to a youth center until he was 21.

The only witness called by the defense was Younce's probation officer Lee Williams, who testified that Younce was on probation for about a year before the fatal shooting last February.

She told the judge that Younce had straight A's (except for a B in a library class), while attending school in the youth center from Feb. 24, 1994 until Sept. 16, 1994.

Despite attempts by the defense attorney to have her claim Younce had changed in a structured facility, Williams would only say that "his grades had improved."

Simowski, in his wrap-up statement, charged Younce had a "horrendous record including hitting teachers, gross truancy and seven suspensions at an alternative school."

He "was only out of the youth home three days, when this tragedy (Jones' killing) occurred," Simowski said. Even in juvenile custody, he attacked others with a mop handle and a sharpened toothbrush, the prosecutor outlined.

In his closing statement, Simowski declared "I would hate to see someone running up to Mr. Younce, when he has had a bad day!"

The defense attorney said "the seriousness of the event is the only element that calls for adult incarceration."

"There is no dispute he has had a troubled growing up period," the defense lawyer said, "but his being placed in a structured lifestyle has lead to his showing improvement. I urge you to consider a juvenile disposition."

Drain however ruled that Younce's record of repeated physical violence forced him to rule that he must be sentenced as an adult. Drain also stated that he felt Younce could be a disruptive force if kept in the juvenile system.

CITY OF ROMULUS
CHAPTER 12
ARTICLE VIII
COST RECOVERY FOR EMERGENCY
SERVICES

An Ordinance to Amend Chapter 12, of the Code of Ordinances of the City of Romulus by Adding Article VIII, For the Purpose of Providing for Cost Recovery for Emergency Services.

THE CITY OF ROMULUS ORDAINS:

Section 1: Short Title

This ordinance shall be known and cited as the City Cost Recovery for Emergency Services Ordinance.

Section 2: Purpose

The purpose of this Chapter is to enable the City of Romulus to require reimbursement from those responsible for the leaking, spilling or otherwise allowing certain dangerous or hazardous substance or materials to escape containment, thereby required cleanup and disposal by the City or its agents. This ordinance shall address both fixed facilities in Romulus and transporters traveling through Romulus.

Section 3: Chapter 12

Fire Protection is amended by adding Article VIII commencing with Sec. 12-165 as follows:

Sec. 12-165. Definitions.

As used in this Article:

(a) "Emergency response" means the providing, sending and/or utilizing of public service, police, fire fighting and rescue services by the City to an accident involving a motor vehicle or fixed facility where there was a release of a hazardous substance; or

(b) "Expense of emergency response" means the costs associated with the occurrence of an emergency response as set forth in paragraph (a) hereof. The expenses of making an emergency response, as set forth in paragraph (a) hereof, shall include the costs connected with the administration, abatement and mitigation provision and analysis of chemical tests and the videotaping of the driver, if applicable. These costs shall be set by Council resolution.

(c) A dangerous or hazardous substance or material is defined as any material or substance that has been identified by City, State or Federal laws or regulations to be limited to such substances as chemicals and gases, explosives, radioactive materials, petroleum products or gases, poisons, etiologic (biologic) agents, flammable and corrosives, or obnoxious by reason of odor, spilled, leaked or otherwise released from their container. Specifically hazardous substance includes hazardous chemicals as defined by the Michigan Department of Public Health and the Michigan Department of Labor; hazardous materials as defined by the U.S. Department of Transportation; critical materials and polluting materials as defined by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, hazardous waste as defined by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and hazardous materials as defined in the Comprehensive Environmental Response, "Superfund", as amended by the Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act of 1986 (SARA), 42 USC 9601. A dangerous or hazardous substance or material is released from its container, which, in the determination of the Fire Chief or his authorized representative, is dangerous or harmful to the human or animal life, health or safety and welfare of the public or environment. A hazardous substance can also be a noxious odor that is determined by the Fire Chief, or his authorized representative, to constitute a danger or threat to the public health, safety or welfare.

reduce any criminal liability or responsibility, including fines imposed by a judge on a driver for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage and/or controlled substance. Nor shall this ordinance be construed to impose criminal sanctions based solely on this ordinance, as to the responsible party in a hazardous or toxic waste violation.

The City Finance Department or its designee, shall within a reasonable time of receiving itemized costs incurred for emergency response, submit a bill for same by First Class Mail or personal service to a person or entity liable for these expenses as enumerated under this ordinance. Said bill shall require full payment in thirty (30) days from date of billing.

If any person or entity fails to reimburse the city as provided and such person or entity is the owner of the affected property, the City shall have the right and power to add any and all costs of cleanup and restoration to the tax roll as to such property, and to levy and collect such costs in the same manner as provided for the levy and collection of real property taxes against said property. This remedy is in addition to any other remedy available to the City allowed by law.

Section 4: Repeal of Conflicting Provisions.

All resolutions, ordinances or parts thereof in conflict with the provisions of this ordinance are to the extent of such conflict, hereby repealed.

Section 5: Severability.

The various parts, sections and clauses of this Ordinance are hereby declared to be severable. If any part, sentence, paragraph, section or clause is adjudged unconstitutional or invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction, the remainder of the Ordinance shall not be affected thereby.

Section 6: Conflicting Provisions.

In the event of any conflict between this Ordinance and the provisions of any prior ordinance, then subject to applicable law and to the extent necessary to reasonably comply with the Act and FCC Rules the provisions of this Ordinance shall control. In the event of any conflict between this Ordinance and the provisions of any franchise, permit or other agreements with a cable operator, then subject to applicable law and to the extent necessary to reasonably comply with the Act and FCC Rules the provision of this Ordinance shall control.

Section 7: Effective Date

This ordinance shall become effective immediately upon publication in the official newspaper.

I, Linda R. Choate, CMC, Clerk of the City of Romulus, Michigan do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an ordinance duly adopted by the Romulus City Council at its regular meeting held on the 12th, day of September, 1994.

Linda R. Choate, CMC, Clerk
 City of Romulus, Michigan

ATTEST:

Beverly McAnally, Mayor

Within forty-five (45) days after the publication of any ordinance duly passed by the Council, a petition may be presented to the Council protesting against such ordinance continuing in effect. Said petition shall contain the text of such ordinance and shall be signed by not less than six percent (6%) of the registered electors registered at the last preceding election at which a Mayor of the City was elected. Said ordinance shall thereupon and thereby be suspended from operation and the Council shall immediately reconsider such ordinance.

WE'VE TAKEN THE FIRST STEP . . . . . . THE NEXT ONE IS UP TO YOU !

We at EDS think it's important for the taxpayers of Romulus to understand the full consequences of the current course your City government is on. We are committed to our project. We have invested over $2,000,000 in this project and have no intention of walking away from that investment. We have offered the City a negotiated settlement that we think is fair to all sides. If the City rejects this path, we are prepared to use all the resources necessary and legal options open to us to protect our investment.

WE THINK YOU SHOULD KNOW WHAT THE CHOICES REALLY ARE

SETTLEMENT

ENDS THE WASTE of taxpayer dollars on lawyers. (In less than a year the City has spent almost $300,000 on lawyers fighting EDS for only one lawsuit.)

IMPROVES CITY SERVICES with money that would have gone to pay lawyers.

EARNS ROYALTY FEES from EDS which could be used to lower residential property taxes.

GAINS CONTROL OF THE WELL for City by placing:

- * limits on hours of operation
- * limits on truck traffic volume & route
- * limits on storage capacity

RESIDENTS BENEFIT FROM EDS' OFFER TO PAY for experts to address citizens' concerns.

A SETTLEMENT REPRESENTS a VICTORY for the RESIDENTS of ROMULUS and an END to a NEEDLESS WASTE of TAXPAYER DOLLARS.

NO SETTLEMENT

CONTINUES TO WASTE taxpayer dollars on lawyers even after voters indicated in June that they don't want tax dollars spent this way. (Currently Romulus taxpayers are paying an average of $32,000 a month to pay lawyers for only one lawsuit.)

CITY SERVICES GO

DOWNHILL as the City has to pay even more money to lawyers to fight the additional lawsuits that will be filed by EDS. (Legal fees alone could cost upward of $2,000,000 - two million dollars!)

LOSES ROYALTY FEES and RISKS LOSING LAWSUITS that could cost taxpayers anywhere from four million dollars to one hundred million dollars! City services are either cut to the bone or the City raises property taxes to pay the lawyers.

RISKS NO CONTROL OF THE WELL if the City loses the lawsuits. If EDS wins, the City has no leverage for negotiations.

RESIDENTS CONTINUE TO BE LEFT "IN THE DARK" and subjected to misinformation.

NO SETTLEMENT is a LOSS TO THE TAXPAYERS and GAMBLES with BANKRUPTCY for the CITY OF ROMULUS.

IF YOU THINK THE CHOICE IS CLEAR, PLEASE LET YOUR VOICE BE HEARD. CALL YOUR CITY COUNCIL MEMBER at 942-7545 and the MAYOR at 942-7571.

Area residents celebrate their special day with the 'stars'

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
MCN Managing Editor

When local residents celebrate their birthdays this month, they will be sharing their special days with politicians, film stars and sports figures.

On Oct. 1, George Watts of Van Buren Township and Amanda Wagle of Romulus shared their birthdays with actress Julie Andrews and former president Jimmy Carter. Born on Oct. 2, the same day as Indian leader Mahatma Ghandi and comedian Groucho Marx, was Keith Bruder of Willis.

Jillian Nicole and Samatha Joann Barrett of Westland share their Oct. 16 birthdays with author Oscar Wilde and actress Angela Lansbury. Brittany Zorn of Wayne celebrates her birthday on Oct. 30, the day before Halloween when newsman Dan Rather observes his birthday.

Celebrity birthdays in October include those of twister Chubby Checker, Oct. 3; actor Charlton Heston and former president Rutherford B. Hayes, Oct. 4; actresses Carole Lombard and Janet Gaynor, Oct. 6; activist Jesse Jackson and gossip columnist Rona Barrett, Oct. 8; Beatle John Lennon and musician Jackson Browne, Oct. 9; actress Helen Hayes, Oct. 10; former first lady Eleanor Roosevelt, Oct. 11; opera singer Luciano Pavarotti and comedian Joan Rivers, Oct. 12.

Actress Lillian Gish was born on Oct. 14, and other birthdays this month are former Chrysler top man and current casino promoter Lee Iacocca, Oct. 15; actress Rita Hayworth and dare-devil Evel Knievel, Oct. 17; horror film actor Bela Lugosi, Oct. 20; musician Dizzy Gillespie, Oct. 21; former Mousketeer Annette Funicello and actress Catherine Deneuve, Oct. 22.

Other October birthdays are those of soccer star Pele, actress Sarah Bernhardt and comedian Johnny Carson, Oct. 23; actor Kevin Kline, Oct. 24; artist Pablo Picasso and Grand Ol' Opry star Minnie Pearl, Oct. 25; actress Jaclyn Smith, Oct. 26; former president Theodore Roosevelt, Oct. 27; Funny Girl Fanny Brice and actor Richard Dreyfuss, Oct. 29, and actress Ethel Waters, astronaut

Michael Collins and writer John Keats, Oct. 31.

The birth stone for October is Opal, the flower is violet and Libra is the zodiac sign for those born between Sept. 23 and Oct. 23. The favorite children's holiday of the month is, of course, Halloween.

Happy Halloween!

Disease warning issued

By IVAN HELFMAN
MCN Staff Writer

Once believed to be a disease of homosexual males and intravenous drug-users, AIDS levels have reached hyper-epidemic proportions in metropolitan Detroit among heterosexuals, according to a Wayne County Health Department spokesman.

Cumulative case totals of acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS) for western Wayne County, through July 1, are: Inkster, 53; Westland, 41; Romulus, 22; Belleville, 12; Wayne, 12; and Canton, 10, according to the Michigan Department of Health.

"There's a sharp increase in those testing human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) positive," said Dr. Donald Lawrenchuk, spokesman for the county's AIDS division, who urged people engaging in high risk behavior to be tested.

"Early detection can enable doctors to significantly prolong people's lives with treatments like AZT," he said. "However, there is no cure for AIDS."

Lawrenchuk said that 5 percent of the thousands of people tested at department clinics test positive for the HIV virus, an early stage of AIDS. The biggest increases are occurring in heterosexual males and women.

"Detroit's men-to-women ratio used to be about 8:1; now it's 2:1," he said.

Increases are also appearing in the infant and senior citizen populations. The only decrease, of 78 percent, occurred for gay white males, he said.

This parallels a national trend uncovered by a seven-year study of blood samples in 30 from low-risk subjects in metropolitan areas, including Detroit, by the Center for Disease Control and Prevention in Atlanta, Ga., he said.

They never thought she'd live to outgrow them.

The toddler who learned to walk in these shoes was born with children's leukemia. If she had been born thirty years ago, chances are she wouldn't have survived long enough to learn to crawl. But thanks in part to your donation to the United Way, today's medical advances have given children with leukemia a 70% chance of survival.

The United Way supports some 140 agencies in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties that help the elderly, the illiterate, the disabled and many more. And because nearly 90 cents of every dollar you contribute goes directly to those in need, you can be sure your donation will make a difference.

So please give to the United Way. And give someone a running start on life.

Trial set for robbery suspect, alleged partner is sentenced

His alleged partner in crime was sentenced to 10 to 20 years for aiding and abetting in a restaurant robbery and now 32-year-old Detroiter Kurt Kevin Edwards is awaiting his day in court.

Edwards and 29-year-old Shaun Duvall Boyer were both charged with three counts of armed robbery after the restaurant manager helped police nab them.

Boyer pleaded guilty to one count of armed robbery before Detroit Recorder's Judge Bruce Morrow. Edwards, who is being held on a $100,000 cash bond, faces a bench trial before Detroit Recorder's Judge Wendy Baxter. If convicted, he faces a maximum sentence of life in prison for each count.

Boyer was charged with driving the get-away vehicle while Edwards is accused of robbing the McDonald's, located at 5235 S. Merriman, armed with a knife.

After the two allegedly fled from the restaurant during the early morning hours Aug. 14, owner Roy Jason III foiled their plans by following them in his vehicle and notifying local police of the incident and the chase from his car phone.

Allen Park and Dearborn police stopped the driver of the 1987 blue two-door Chrysler automobile while traveling northbound on the Southfield, police said, after Jason, 46, followed them down the I-94 freeway.

The incident occurred around 7:10 a.m. when the perpetrator walked into McDonald's, placed an order and then pulled out a 4-7/8-inch lock blade knife, police said.

When he instructed the cashier to "open the drawer and give me the money" while holding the knife over the counter, the frightened cashier ran to the back of the store and yelled for the owner, police said.

The robber then went around the counter and followed the woman toward the back of the store. Meanwhile, the cashier was met by Jason, who upon learning of the incident, instructed her to go downstairs while he approached the front of the store.

He was met by the robber who said, "I want all your money," and showed him the knife, according to police. The owner escorted the armed man to the front register where he was instructed to open the drawer and the robber grabbed an undisclosed amount of cash. The perpetrator then said, "I want the back cash," referring to the rear drive-through window register, police said. The owner opened that drawer and the robber took the cash. He then asked where the safe was and the owner led him to it, but was unable to open the safe because he did not have the key.

The angered assailant said, "C'mon you're going with me," and ordered the cashier and two witnesses who were standing near the fryers to get down on the ground with their faces down, according to police.

As he walked out, the robber used his knife to cut off three gold bracelets from the cashier's arm. He then walked the owner to the front counter and instructed him to get on the ground and cut the phone lines to both store phones, police said.

As the assailant walked out the north door of the building, Jason got up and saw a car pull through the drive-through area. According to police, the robber yelled, "C'mon, c'mon," hurriedly to the vehicle driver. After the robber got inside, the Chrysler drove off slowly southbound onto Merriman and Jason got in his car and pursued the two, police said.

Man accused of assaulting 13-year-old receives probation

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
MCN Staff Writer

A 21-year-old Taylor man, accused of having sexual intercourse with a 13-year-old girl while house sitting in Westland, was sentenced to three years of probation. He will also serve 90 days in jail on the weekends.

Daniel Lawrence Thompson

pledged guilty to the reduced charges of fourth-degree criminal sexual conduct (CSC) before Detroit Recorder's Judge Vera Massey Jones. He was originally charged with third-degree CSC, which carries a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison.

The incident occurred April 30 when Thompson and a 21-year-old friend and two 13-year-old girls, all from Taylor, went to a residence located on the 7400 block of Affeldt Street in Westland, according to Donohue.

"The girl (victim) was an acquaintance who met the defendant that day," Westland police Sgt. Terry Donohue said.

Juvenile sentencing needs revamping

This week, a Detroit Recorder's Court judge must make a decision whether to sentence a 15-year-old convicted slayer to serve his sentence in a juvenile or adult facility.

The young man was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter and assault with intent to do great bodily harm in the shooting death of a 20-year-old Romulus resident.

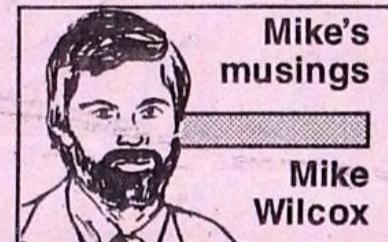

It is within the judge's power to decide whether the youth should be sentenced as a juvenile or as an adult, regardless of the fact that the young man was tried as an adult. If the judge decides that the youth will be sentenced as an adult, he will receive a prison term of up to 15 years, but if he is sentenced as a juvenile, he will be sent to a juvenile correctional facility until he is 21 - a maximum of six years.

The victim's father has embarked on a crusade to have state law amended so that young felons convicted of weapons-related crimes cannot be sentenced as juveniles.

While there is public concern regarding the sentencing of teenagers as adults, there also is a growing awareness that many of the crimes committed by youths involve the use of weapons, and often result in serious injuries or

Could Romulus become Midwest Las Vegas?

Mike's musings
Mike Wilcox

It ain't quite Margaritaville, but poolside at Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas is a sight to behold. Ninety degree weather, long tall drinks and beautiful babes in bikinis make for a great long weekend.

As I sit here trying to remember all the blackjack tables at which I lost, I can't help but think...can this be Romulus in 10 years?

Well, if you believe some of the chatter around Romulus City Hall, Windsor won't be the only Detroit suburb with a casino. Mayor Bev McAnally and significant others have been talking with casino giants like Harrah's and casino neophytes like Lee Iacocca about building a casino in Romulus.

Lo and behold, the talk has gotten serious. The city recently hired a consultant to delve into the possibilities and at the last city council meeting voted to spend money on conducting a feasibility study to see whether it makes sense to pursue gambling as a means to bring money to the city offices.

Back to the original question. Can Romulus be Vegas? Zoom forward 10 years. Assume gambling is legalized. Assume Harrah's and Steve Wynn and Bob Stupak have all followed Lee Iacocca's lead - and have built monuments to the gambling gods in beautiful downtown Romulus?

Can it be that if Las Vegas is the fastest growing city in America (and in 1994 it is), that Romulus would be right behind? Can it be that America West, Sun Country and other such airlines would fly charters into Metro, filled to the gills with tourists looking to find fortune in Romulus?

The gaming industry is growing by leaps and bounds. People can't seem to get enough of the "one-armed bandits." As I sit poolside at Caesar's, my wife is inside searching for the one slot machine that will make her rich. She is not alone. Thousands each and every day, 365 days a year in Vegas, in Atlantic City, in Deadwood, in Biloxi and on the Indian reservations pour quarters and dollars in machines that never pay back.

Suddenly an overweight, middle-aged Speedo-wearing idiot bumps into my lounge chair. I awake! Was I really day-dreaming? Could I possibly dream that Vegas was Romulus, or Romulus was Vegas? Nah, it couldn't happen in a million years. But then again, nobody gave Iacocca a slot machine's odds to turn around Chrysler either.

Stay tuned. I've got a hunch this casino talk is just getting started in Romulus.

Assistance available

To the editor:

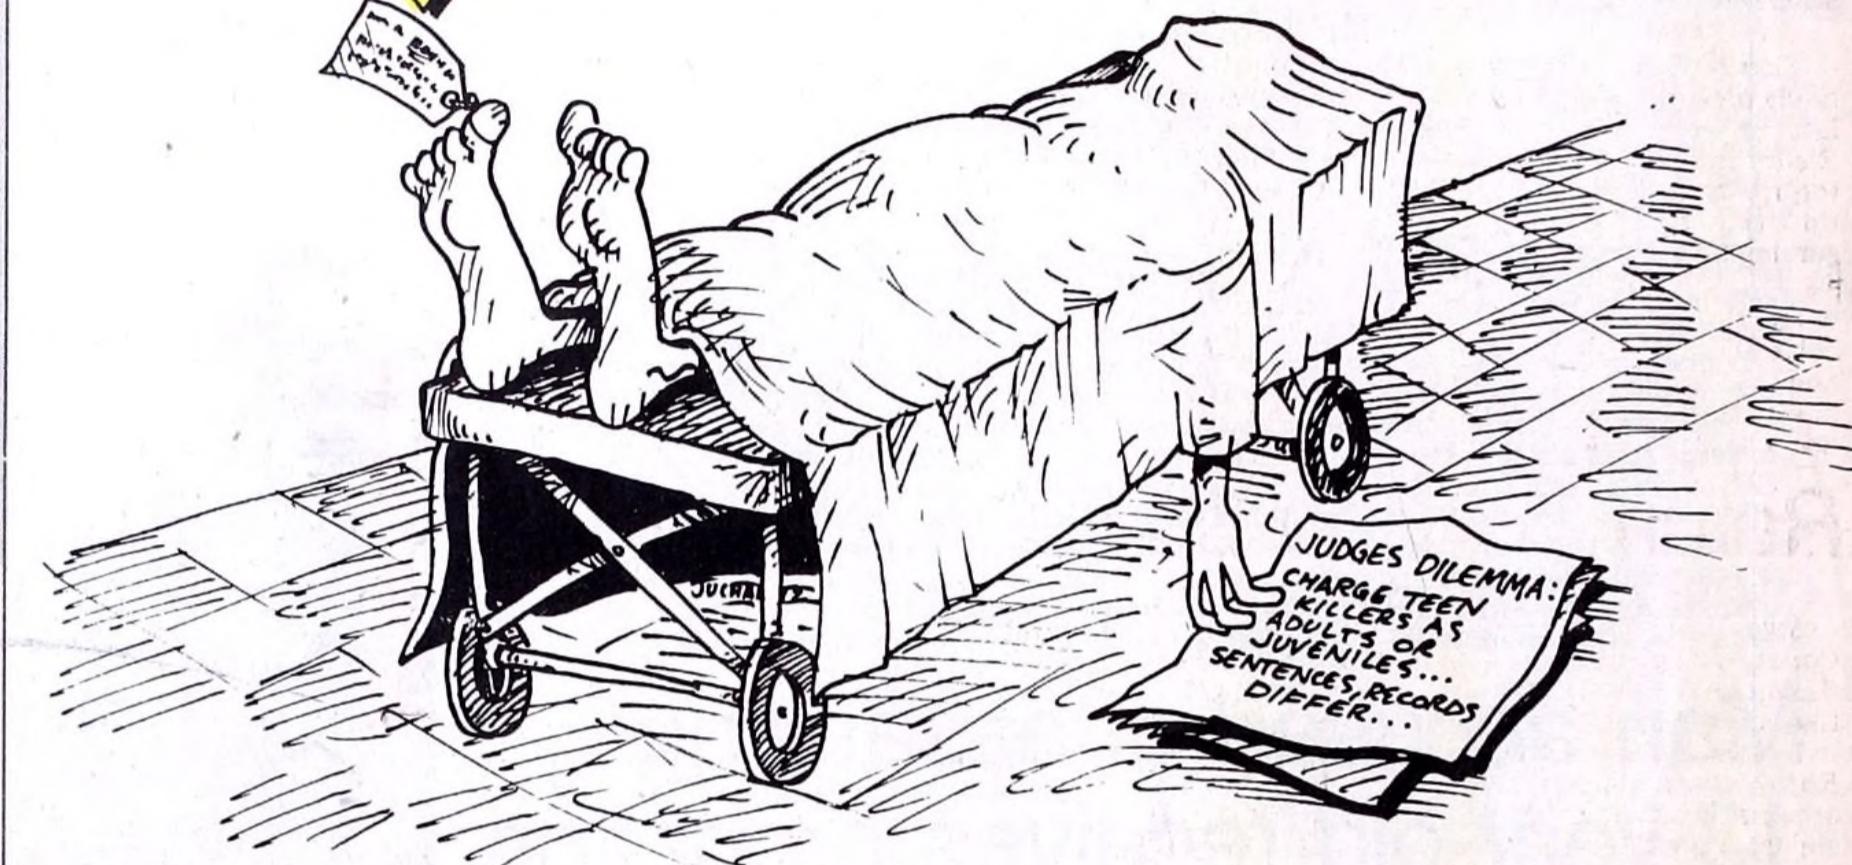

Recent and past acts of violence in Southeast Michigan cause us great concern and prompt us to write in order to provide information to your readers that may help prevent future tragedies. The fact is, at any one time, there are many people having difficulty dealing with problems and stresses in their lives who contemplate violent acts, while externally there is little evidence that such a serious threat exists. Other times the threat is made overtly, and in these cases the threat should be taken very seriously.

Individuals close to the one having committed the violence often say they never suspected such a thing might happen, however hindsight may point to clues that problems were brewing. It cannot be said however, that anyone should see such a thing coming. What we can say is that there are many avenues for finding help to deal with life's problems and stresses. We can say it is especially sad that violence and murder do occur because there is help available to resolve problems before anyone becomes harmed.

Some avenues for assistance include calling 911, an EAP at work, your local Community Mental Health Agency, various social service agencies, psychologists, social workers, and numerous listing in the Yellow Pages under Mental Health.

Survivors sought

To the editor:

The Pittsburgh air crash focuses the world's headlines on air safety for a few days. These horrors last longer for survivors and families of victims from all over the world.

The International Air Disaster Coalition brings together survivors and bereaved families. At our 1993 annual meeting, victims of 11 crashes in 4 continents with over 1,500 fatalities gathered to support one another and to work towards making the skies safer.

We would appreciate your help in informing any of your readers who are victims of the Aug. 16, 1987 Northwest Airlines crash, which killed 156 persons in your area, or any other air crash, about our Third International meetings this Oct. 28-30 in Washington.

Signs of times

To the editor:

The issue of political signs has again arisen and I would like to express my thoughts on this issue in an unusual way, my satirical interpretation of what this politician is saying to the residents of the City of Westland.

HELLO, I'm the politician that has left signs up all over your city and I want to represent the Citizens of Westland and do many wonderful things for the City of Westland while I am in the Michigan Senate.

There are three things I must tell you so that you can clearly understand the way things will be.

1. I will not respect your wishes-Like the times you have wanted me to take down my signs. Yes, I did take them all down in Canton but you Westlanders have to understand that I live there and I didn't want my friends and neighbors looking at political signs all summer.

2. I will not respect your Mayor either-I know he wrote me a letter on behalf of the residents of Westland but I didn't think it was important enough to act on it.

Last but not least:

3. I will not follow the laws of this country or this state, after all, I ignored the Westland sign ordinance. When I get to Lansing, just think of what I can get away with.

Mr. Chairman: It seems to me that in Mr. Bennett, we have a politician that cannot be trusted nor relied upon to do what is right for Westland nor its residents.

Haitian policy berated

To the editor:

Eureka! The Clinton administration and "Secretary of State" Jimmy Carter may have stumbled upon a "liberal" solution to the problem of violence both in Haiti and in the United States!

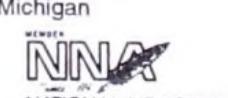

The liberal solution? Disarm the local police, retrain them to be compassionate, and urge the populace to give up the "habit of violence."

Sound-off

Callers reveal gripes about schools, politicians in telephone 'soap box'

Our Sound-Off 729-4006 line was launched last week, and our readers were quick to record their comments on it.

Western Wayne County residents are invited to call in their gripes and comments to our "community soap box" by dialing 729-4006 between 5 p.m. and 8 a.m. daily.

Sound-off callers are asked to speak clearly and to refrain from swearing, slandering or knocking ethnic or racial groups. Callers need not give their names, but may, if they wish, identify themselves by profession or job status or as residents of one of our six communities.

Here is a sampling of the Sound-Off comments:

The November election holds the key to gambling with Lee in Romulus. Since Gov. Engler is a shoo-in, it's time to forgive his past sins and butter up the old horsetrader. The gaming tables are worth it.

Every politician wants to cut things, so they all get up and say, "I'll cut, cut, cut. Well, one of those jobs they cut was my husband's. And we found out he was losing his job the same week we found out I was pregnant with my third child. I'd like these politicians to know what these cuts mean - to real people, with real families. My husband has a master's degree, and I'm a registered nurse. And we're struggling, man. We're driving an '87 van with 150,000 miles on it. And college money for my kids? Not even in my dreams. We just don't have it.

Police officials are always crying for more money. They hire manpower with temporary funds, and then go to the voters when the funds run out. Why are they surprised?

Belleville Bridge and road construction is driving me crazy. When will they ever get done? The sign says "64 more weeks," but it's been there for six weeks or more.

Who else but the $110,000 per-year plus perks Wayne-Westland Superintendent Thomas would turn a financial crisis into something like attempted blackmail? Practically putting his students on the pavement like streetwalkers to force us to pay him and his cronies money they doesn't need with money we don't have. If he doesn't bite the bullet and share in the sacrifice, instead of attacking the teens we entrusted him with, then his toady board will bite the ballot and be replaced with parents too incorruptible to tolerate the likes of Thomas and his extorting-like ways.

I would sooner lick sandpaper than a Richard Nixon stamp. If the post office doesn't come to its senses, we'll soon have Spiro Agnew and Pee Wee Herman commemoratives.

I'd vote for health care reform, not a second invasion of Haiti. President Woodrow Wilson sent in the Marines in 1915 after an angry mob dismembered Haitian President Vilbrun Sam and paraded his bloody body parts through the streets. The next year, our doughboys marched across the border and occupied Haiti's island neighbor, the Dominican Republic, turning our tails in 1924. We stayed 19 years in Haiti and accomplished "didly squat" before giving up. Dictators picked up the pieces. President Clinton is smart enough to learn from our past mistakes. I hope he's brave enough to fight for the health care that he promised in his campaign instead of throwing away American lives and money for nothing.

Please don't write anything about O.J. Simpson, Roseanne and Tom Arnold, Madonna or an Elvis sighting. I'm so tired of the hype on these characters, I could throw up!

deaths. For example, the Romulus victim was shot to death by an unregistered, illegal handgun brought to a school parking lot by the slayer.

Whether the 15-year-old is sentenced to six or 15 years, it will not undo the tragedy that occurred last February. It will not mend the hearts of the grieving parents, it will not ease the pain of the victims' friends and relatives, and, most of all, it will not bring back life to the slain 21-year-old.

The decision will be a difficult one for the judge. On one hand, he must consider the implications of sentencing a 15-year-old to serve time in an adult prison where he may be victimized by older inmates. On the other hand, he must consider whether a six-year-sentence is just punishment for taking a life.

We hope that state lawmakers will take heed to the concerns raised by the family of the slain youth and consider legislation to close the loophole that now allows felons convicted of weapons-related crimes to be tried as adults and sentenced as juveniles.

Perhaps, a change in current law could place juveniles convicted of murder or other violent crimes in a youth facility until the age of 21 and then transfer them to an adult facility to finish their terms. It may not be a perfect solution, but it would seem to be a more reasonable choice than the current law that frees convicted juvenile felons at the age of 21.

Clearly, Haiti's economic elite should not oppose the summary confiscation of their ill-gotten gains by the democratic underclass.

Because, as we all now, in a democracy the majority is always right.

Actually, what we have done in Haiti is apply the lessons of the Rodney King case to international affairs. Namely - racists elites oppress, and the police are merely the agents of that oppression. In fact, this could be called the "Rodney

Fans give Detroit Lions mixed predictions

If you want to know about football, Gordon Ross is the man to ask.

When interviewed last week about his predictions for the Detroit Lions this season, Ross, who is a Navy recruiter at the Glenwood-Wayne office, was eager to respond.

"They have the talent, ability and emotion to go a long way - close to the Super Bowl," said Ross, glancing at a football schedule he carries on his key chain. "They'll be a contender for their division at a minimum."

Westland resident William Thomas isn't sure how far the Lions will go, but he will be backing them all the way.

"I hope they do well. I always support the local team, and I'd like to see the Lions be winners," Thomas said.

Darvin Hicks of Wayne was emphatic that the Lions won't play in the Super Bowl.

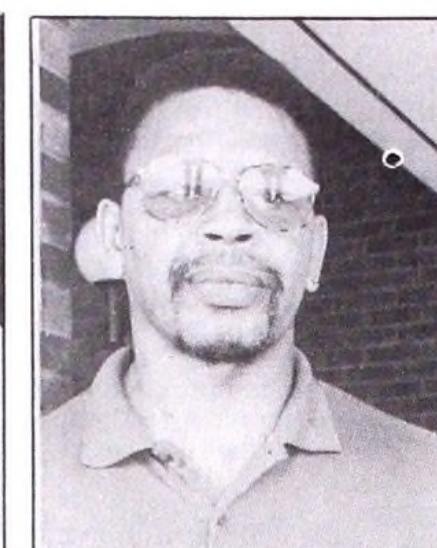

"It's hard to say at this point. I don't know how they'll end the season," Hicks said.

Jim Debbs, a Rochester Hills resident, thinks the Lions may have a chance to take their division - but no more.

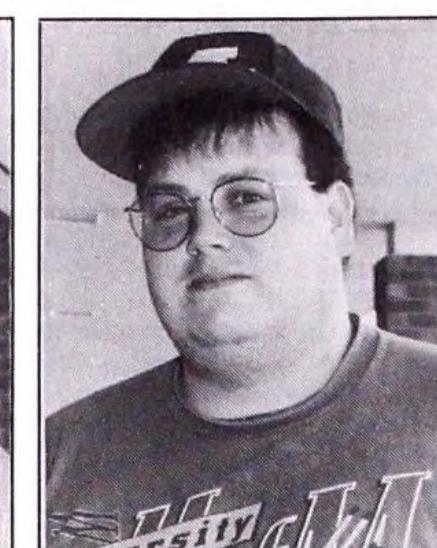

"They're too up and down now. I'd have to wait and see before making a prediction."

Township offers program to keep residents informed of the community

Township officials are speaking out to the community beginning this fall in hopes of making Canton a better place to live, work and play.

The Canton Speaker's Bureau is not a new concept said Ken Voyles, assistant to Supervisor Tom Yack.

"We've always gone out and talked with concerned citizens," he said. "This brochure is just making it formal."

Water, sewer rates increase

In an effort to break even in the water and sewer fund by 1996, township officials agreed to increase combined rates by 25 cents per 1,000 gallons beginning next month.

"This goes back a number of years ago," said Canton Township chief financial officer John Spencer.

Estimated rates for 1994 are $3.43 combined for water and sewer for each 1,000 gallons. That cost reflects a 10 cent increase in water and 15 cent increase in sewer.

dents to get involved in the community..." reads the brochure.

Residents can hear from a variety of administrative offices including: municipal services, the public safety department, or the treasurer's office just by calling their office. Sessions are conducted Monday through Friday during business hours or during the evening hours.

"My guess is people will take it and put it aside until the need it," said Ken Voyles.

"The program offers wide range of expertise, all provided by various members of the government administration including engineers, recreation directors, senior coordinators and information specialists."

Sessions can be conducted anywhere, in a church, home, the library, etc., free of charge.

according to township officials.

The new program is designed to keep residents informed as to what is happening at all levels of the government as well as provide an open forum during which residents can interact with staff members on various issues.

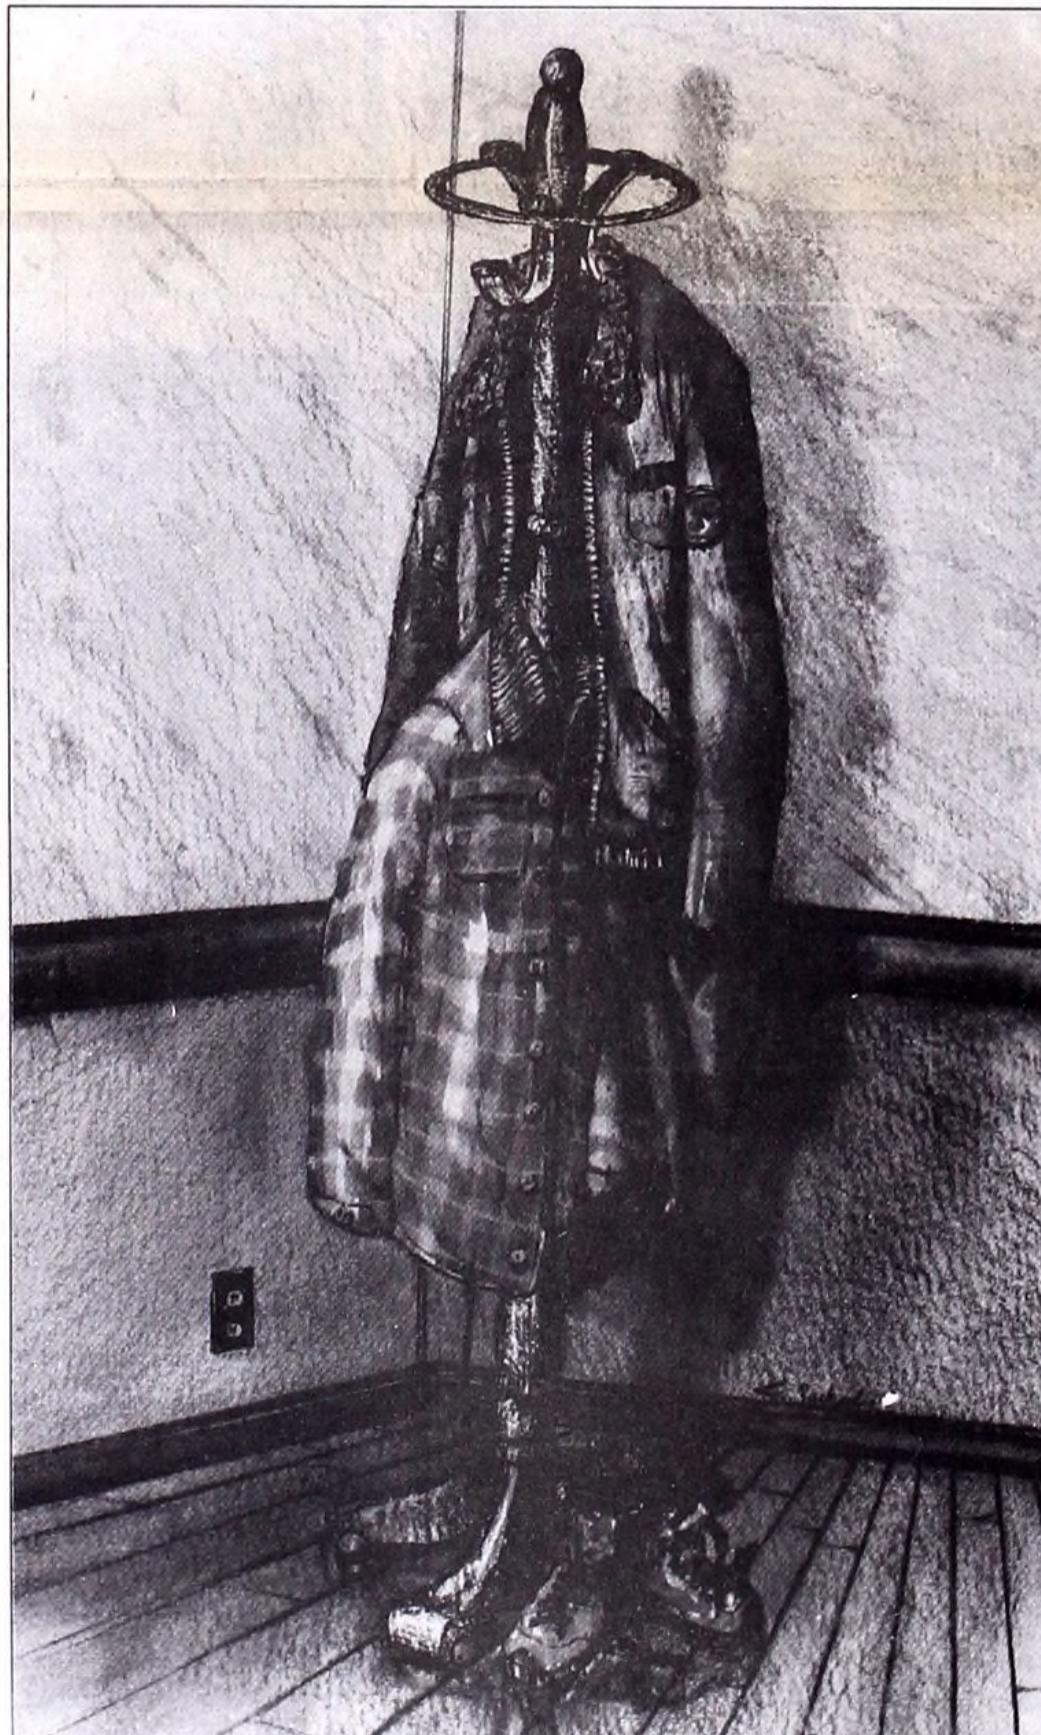

"This program is part of our communications master plan," said Yack. "We are trying to find ways of better reaching residents and community groups. We think this will be one of those communication services residents can really appreciate."

All topics should be scheduled two to three weeks ahead of time to allow complete preparation. Sessions will vary in length depending on the topic.

For more information on topics contact Voyles at 397-5472.

Drivers watch out for potholes, deep craters

Potholes—those deep and sharp-edged roadway craters that play havoc with car tires, steering and shock absorbers—are popping out all over Michigan roads and highways.

"The unusually severe freeze and thaw cycle of the last few weeks is causing roads to deteriorate," said Jerry Basch, AAA Michigan Community Safety Service manager. "Keep your eyes on the road and watch out for potholes. Slow down and try to steer around them as much as possible without endangering traffic in adjacent lanes."

Potholes can cause significant damage to vehicles, Basch said.

"Be sure to take your car in for a check-up if steering, ride, tire or noise problems appear," Basch said. "Keep your tires properly inflated and steering and suspension components in good condition. Especially critical are the shock absorbers or struts which prevent excessive rebound or bottoming out on severe bumps."

Potholes may cost the average American driver more than $100 a year in vehicle repairs such as new shock absorbers, blown tires, wasted gasoline, body work and even broken windshield, Basch said.

State crews are working to patch and repair roads and highways as potholes appear. The Michigan Department of Transportation has budgeted $13 million for fiscal year 1993-1994 to repair roadway surfaces, much of that money going for pothole repair.

Crews for 83 county road commissions are also working hard to keep road surfaces as smooth as possible.

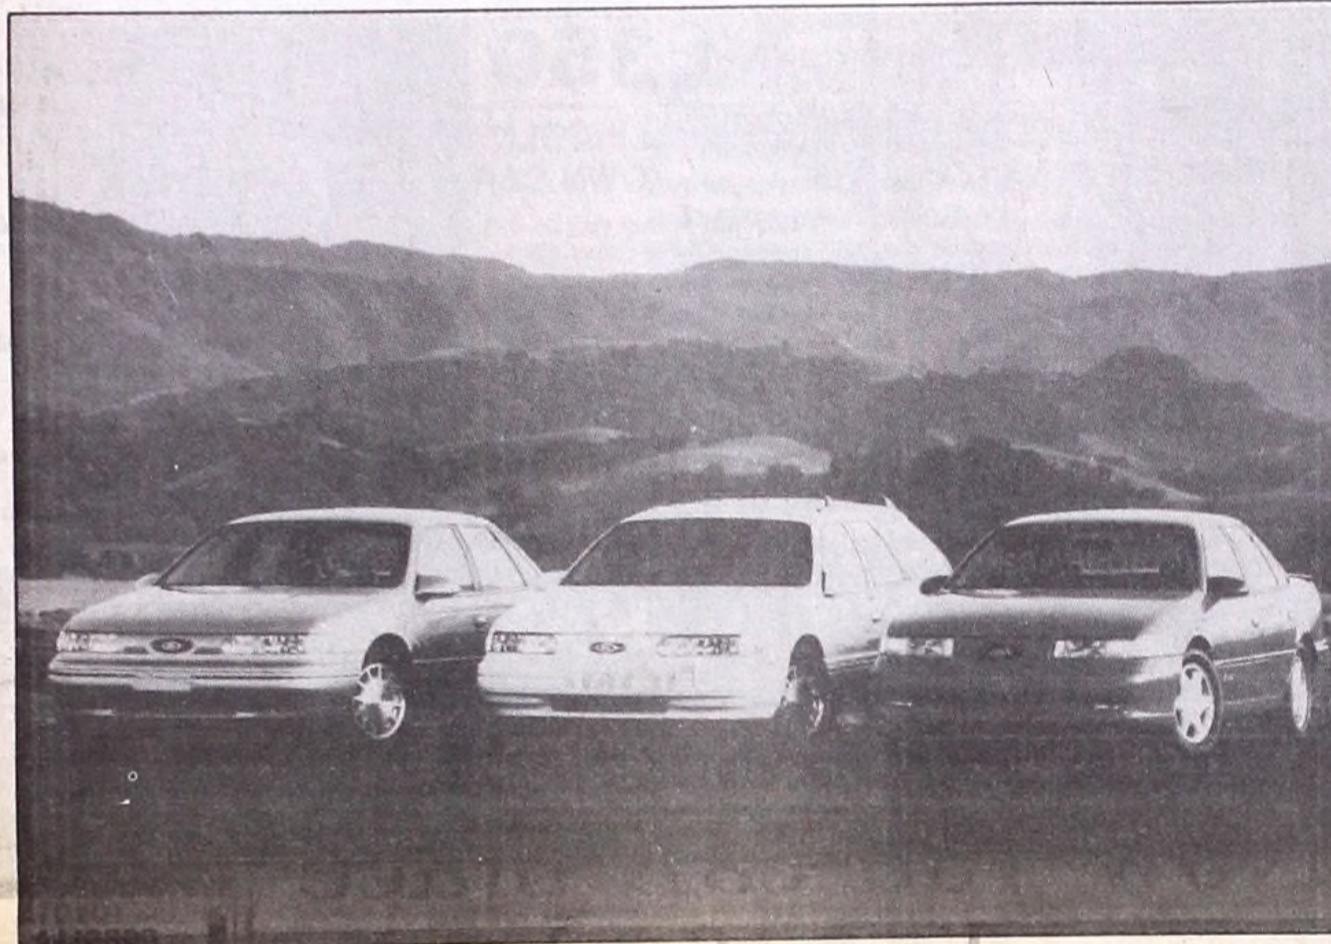

For example, the Wayne County Road Commission is spending between $25,000 to $30,000 a day for pothole repair. Ten crews are repairing approximately 2,000 potholes a day with 40 tons of patching material, according to Earl Ollila, Wayne County road maintenance engineer.

To report a Wayne County pothole hazardous to public travel call 942-9920.

What causes a pothole? They begin after snow or rain seeps into cracks in the road surface. The moisture freezes when temperatures drop below freezing, causing the ground to expand, rise and push the pavement up.

When cars and trucks drive over the hollow cavity, the surface cracks and falls into the hollow space, Basch explained.

It's homecoming on Friday

Glenn must prove to Livonia Stevenson that Rockets are No. 1

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Thanks to North Farmington's 6-0 victory over previously undefeated Livonia Stevenson, Westland John Glenn is atop of the Western Lakes Division all alone.

Whether Glenn coach Chuck Gordon and his Rockets stay there, however, will depend on

Wayne whips Warriors

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Wayne Memorial kept its title flames burning by turning Woodhaven's lights off, 41-18, in a Mega Conference, Red Division game Friday night.

The victory kept coach Chuck Howton and the Zebras in the hunt for the championship, although the 3-1 club is trailing undefeated Belleville and Monroe in the chase.

The next three games are crucial, Howton stressed, after pointing out that they will meet Wyandotte, Belleville and Fordson, and a loss to any one of their conference rivals would almost put them out of reach of the title.

And the veteran coach doesn't even want to talk about the fourth- and final opponent of the season - arch-rival, John Glenn.

Wyandotte could be Wayne's "Waterloo." If they hope to stay alive in the title race, they must win.

"They're coming off of a loss to Fordson," Howton said. "But Wyandotte can beat anybody in this league, including us, if we don't hold our mistakes to a minimum."

Although they dominated Woodhaven in every category, Wayne gave up a couple of big plays against the Warriors, and that triggered some concerns from the Zebras' coaching staff.

"Our secondary didn't play well," Howton said. "Wyandotte could exploit our weakness if we are not prepared."

Wayne brushed Woodhaven aside in the first quarter, rolling to a 14-0 lead as senior tailback Stan Stevenson scored one touchdown on short run and was instrumental in the second. His first was a two-yarder, with quarterback Lorenzo Guess and John Bohnwagner teaming up for the two point conversion.

Stevenson's TD capped a 65-yard, 10-play drive that took all of four minutes.

Midway in the quarter, Stevenson managed to flip the ball as he was being tackled at the two to Guess who leaped into the Woodhaven end zone for the touchdown.

However, Woodhaven came back late in the quarter and scored after a drive from the one, with Aaron Wilson collecting the six-pointer.

Wayne came right back and scored on a Guess to Richard Bulford pass that covered 40 yards to make it a 20-6 ball game, but the Warriors refused to fold. With 1:48 left in the half, they came back and scored from the one-yard line on Jason Folgmann's quarterback sneak.

What apparently forced the Warriors to raise the white flag came immediately after their TD. After the ensuing kick, Wayne came right back and with 11 seconds to spare, Guess and Stevenson teamed up on a swing pass that covered three yards for a touchdown.

a crucial game Friday night. They will have to prove to visiting Stevenson that they deserve the No. 1 ranking. And that won't be easy, especially since the Spartans will be coming to Westland knowing that this is a "do-or-die" game.

And the Spartans would like love to spoil Glenn's homecoming festivities.

Glenn climbed to the top of the hill thanks to three consecutive victories, after dropping its first two non-conference games of the year. The latest Rocket win was a dramatic overtime decision against a heralded Farmington club on Saturday.

Behind the elusive running of Brent Washington and the coming of age of quarterback James Hagelthorn, Glenn broke a 14-all deadlock in the first overtime to pick up their third win, 20-17.

In that extra period, Farmington got on the scoreboard with a 23-yard field goal to make it a 17-14 game, putting the pressure on Hagelthorn to produce. On the first Glenn play, Hagelthorn handed off to Washington who got to the four, then on the second play, the speedy running back only picked up a yard.

With two plays left and first-place at stake, Hagelthorn then chose the option and, as he made his way to the right side, saw a tunnel leading to the Farmington end zone and raced right through for the decisive touchdown.

It should not have gotten down to that.

The Westlanders had a 6-0 lead after the first quarter as the Rockets put together a 65-yard sustained drive that culminated with Washington's first of two touchdown runs - this one a three yarder.

The Rockets failed to capitalize on the extra point but had the lead 6-0.

Eagles plummet

Although they managed to keep the outcome of the game in doubt until the final quarter, Romulus' football stocks continued to fall as Coach Jim Zoltowski's Eagles dropped a 27-14 decision before the home crowd Friday night to visiting Hazel Park. The Eagles have lost four of their five starts this year and are looking to snap their losing streak at the expense of Pinckney, who will be in town Friday night. On Oct. 14, the Eagles will celebrate homecoming when Milan's Big Reds visit Romulus for the first time. MCN photo by Kimberly Woloskie

Belleville buries Cougars, Woodhaven No. 6 victim?

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Exploding for two touchdowns in the first quarter, Belleville's title express blew Garden City off the Mega Conference football tracks, 36-10, on its now speeding toward Woodhaven.

And Woodhaven should pose no problems for the undefeated Tigers, who have now won all five of their games this year.

Woodhaven is coming off of an embarrassing 41-18 setback at the hands of Wayne Memorial.

But, despite being an overwhelming favorite against Woodhaven, Belleville coach Bob LaPointe has put out a cautionary flag. He warns that the Warriors' 2-3 record is very deceptive.

"Woodhaven does a lot of things well," said LaPointe, "and they like to blitz a lot. We are not going to take them or anyone in this league lightly. If we do, it could prove fatal."

The Belleville coach also added that it "will be nice to play before the home crowd after being on the road for the past three weeks."

On the road last Friday, Belleville's offense awed Garden City as the Tigers, led by Ian Gold and Joe Manuel, leaped on the Cougars in the first quarter and increased a 13-0 advantage to 29-10 at the half. Using most of his backup crew in the second half, LaPointe still had a 36-7 lead after three periods.

Manuel scored the first for the Tigers as he scampered around end and across the goal line from the 22-yard line. Eric Harrison missed the point after and he corrected the miscalculation after Ian Gold scored the second on the longest Tiger TD run of the 1994 season. Gold had a 79-yarder that included breaking away from a couple of would-be Garden City tacklers.

The Tigers boosted their advantage early in the second quarter thanks to a 23-yard Harrison field goal, and midway in the quarter, quarterback Nate Lewis climaxed a 84-yard sustained drive with Manuel's second TD, a 26-yarder.

Belleville also scored in the third quarter when Mike Williams finished off a midfield drive with a 25-yard touchdown run. Harrison connected on the point-after. The Tigers wrapped up their scoring in the closing minutes of the third when Lewis and Erik Szyndlar combined on a seven-yard TD pass.

Garden City had its problems containing Gold, who rushed for 161 yards and scored one TD in his 10 rushes. Manuel, a junior tailback, finished with a pair of TDs in his 56 yards on nine attempts, while Lewis was on target for five of six for 96 yards and a touchdown.

Brian Dick had an exceptional game on defense. The 6-3, 205-pound linebacker, considered an excellent college prospect, checked in with 10 tackles and a batted-away pass. Teammate Rodney Komaromi also had seven tackles and intercepted one in the end zone, while free safety Sam Reid also stood out.

The five-game Tiger winning streak is the longest streak in recent Belleville football history.

It's showtime for Robichaud, Highland Park

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

At approximately 5:30 p.m., Friday, the 1994 Suburban Athletic Conference champ will walk off the gridiron at Robichaud High School.

The two undefeated title contenders - Robichaud and Highland Park - will meet to decide which will wear the coveted crown.

"They (Highland Park) are playing superb defense," said Robichaud veteran coach Bob Yauck, after the Bulldogs shut out River Rouge 22-0 for their fourth straight - third in the SAC - victory of the season. "Do you know that they have given up only two TDs this year? That's the kind of defense that championships are made of."

And, on offense, the Parkers will be led by running back Andre Crosby, a legitimate All-State candidate who is averaging 100 yards per game this season.

Robichaud's defense also merits consideration for being one of the toughest in the SAC.

Do you know that they have given up only two TDs this year? That's the kind of defense that championships are made of.

- Bob Yauck

They stopped a fast-moving Rouge machine cold last week thanks, in part, to Charles Purvis, who was outstanding in the secondary. He swatted away three Rouge passes.

Rouge was forced to the air because the Robichaud line, backed by linebackers Steve Schumacker and Brian Gibson, buried their ballcarriers.

Robichaud struck early against Rouge as quarterback Matt Alexander polished off a 65-yard line with a 11-yard touchdown run in the opening quarter. Then, Massey scored

Ladywood favored to win Wayne swim title

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Making its inaugural appearance at the Wayne Memorial Invitational Women's Swim Meet, Livonia Ladywood has the dubious honor of also being the team to beat.

The invitational will be staged beginning at 1 p.m. on Saturday at the Wayne High facility.

"Ladywood has some fine swimmers," said Wayne coach Greg Cooper, "and, off of what I am hearing, should be considered the team to be here. But Allen Park also looks good, and I like our depth."

Ladywood is coached by former Wayne High All-Area swimmer and coach Randy Ferguson.

The field for the invitational will also include teams representing Westland John Glenn, Redford Township Thurston, Garden City and Wyandotte.

In the meantime, Wayne eked out a 96-90 victory over natural rival, Glenn, on Tuesday and came back to dunk Garden City, 136-46, in a Mega Conference meet.

Against Glenn, Wayne's Melissa Becker contributed two of her team's five first places and also swam on the winning 200-yard freestyle relay team.

Becker won the 50-yard freestyle with a 28.93 swim and came back with a 1:03.64 for a win in the 100-yard freestyle. She later teamed up with Tammy Raines, Pam Prich and Teresa Yorke to win the Senior split end Larry Johnson, who hails from Inkster and prepped at Wayne Memorial, had four pass receptions for 49 yards and two touchdowns for Wayne Michigan University as the Broncos galloped past Kent State University 24-10 last week.

In five games to date, Johnson has 23 receptions for 275 yards and moved up to second in the pass-reception category.

Western is now 5-0 on the season and is one of 15 undefeated NCAA Division 1-A teams. The Broncos are 9-0-1 over their last 10 games, which is the longest unbeaten string in the school's history since the 1940-41 season.

200-yard freestyle relay event in 1:59.58.

Yorke turned in a 6:21.39 to finish first in the 500-yard freestyle and Katie Pardee touched in first for the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:20.36.

In the Garden City meet, Wayne swept to 10 first places out of a possible 12 as Becker again contributed two events. She was clocked in 2:24.14 and 1:06.48 in picking up the 200 and 100 freestyle events.

The Zebras also won the 200-medley relay with Cristi Brumlow, Pardee, Erin West and Andrea McCahill (2:16.50), while their 200-freestyle relay lineup of Becker, Raines, Prpich and McCahill also breezed with a 2:71.0.

On the boards, Wayne's Shelly Woods finished first with 133.2 points.

Raines chipped in with a victory in the 100-yard butterfly (1:12.94), while McCahill also placed first in the 500 (6:37.70). Pardee's contribution was a first in the 100-yard breaststroke (1:21.08).

Cooper put together a foursome of Joselyn Nemeth, Raines, April Feijoo and Yorke who won the 400-yard freestyle relay event.

Wayne will tune up for its invitational with a 7 p.m. home meet against Redford Union. They swam a rebuilding Dearborn Fordson team on Tuesday.

But the Hawks came back and tied it and went ahead 7-6 midway in the second quarter as senior running back Jake Siskosky scored with 5:06 on the lock. The Hawks converted to take the lead.

After the ensuing kickoff, the Rockets marched 70-yards and scored with 18 seconds left in the half, again with Washington going in from the three. Washington also cashed in on the two-point conversion, giving the visitors a 14-7 lead.

But Farmington tied the game, on a quarterback sneak with 2:30 remaining, forcing the issue into the overtime.

The loss dipped the Hawks' record to 4-1 overall and 2-1 in the Lakes; the Rockets are 3-2 and 3-0 in the same categories.

Washington accounted for the bulk of the Rockets' yardage on the ground. He rushed for 103 yards and two TDs on 20 attempts. Fullback Mike Kidder finished with 58 yards on seven rushes, while Haggithorn made good on five of 11 passes for 35 yards.

Gordon received a sterling effort on defense from his line-backing corps: Mike Sosnowski and Matt Griglio while line-man Brian Kolb also stood out.

A first for Tigers

Belleville wins cross country invitational

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Putting their best foot and performances forward, Belleville captured the 1994 Centerline Invitational cross country title.

Coach George Devore and the Tigers finished on top of a field of 10 teams thanks to a balanced "team effort", according to the first-year Belleville coach.

"It was really an overall team performance that helped us win our first major title of the year," Devore said. "Obviously, we are very pleased."

Belleville piled up 96 team points for the first-place trophy, 94 less than runner, Jackson Lance Cruse (186). Utica finished third with 187 while Royal Oak Kimball was fourth (194).

Other finishers included: Grosse Pointe North (208), Romeo (305), Pontiac Central (344), Detroit Redford (447).

Belleville's best individual performance came from Brian Mockeridge, who toured the rain-soaked 5-kilometer course in 16:26, the meet's third best time. Andy Brittan won the first-place medal with a 16:04.

Belleville also finished eighth with Evan Ring (16:47), and other Tiger runners whose scores counted included: Craig Hogg, 16th (17:20); Kyle Medley, 30th (17:48); Jason Newbern, 35th (17:48); Joseph Bellany, 44th (18:00) and James Benson, 99th (20:13).

Belleville evened up its Mega Conference record at 1-1 last week with a narrow 28-29 victory over Wyandotte.

In the meantime, the Belleville women's team finished second, four points behind Romeo at Centerline. Romeo took the first-place trophy home thanks to a 206 point total. Belleville was second (210), followed by Grosse Pointe North (221).

Farmington Hills Mercy High runner Ilene O'Connor captured the gold with an 18:33 run.

Belleville's No. 1 runner, Tammy Pietrowski checked in at 15th (20:23) and also earned a medal. The Tigers received a 31st-place performance from Jamie Koren (21:01) while Milissa Akron was 43rd (21:37).

Belleville stunned Wyandotte, 18-27, in their Mega Conference meet last week as Pietrowski led the pack with a 21:24 run and teammate Milissa Akron was right behind in second (21:43).

Coach Sam Vicchy also received a fourth and fifth place from Jamie Koren (22:16) and Katie Akron (22:24) while Amy Pokerwinski crossed the finish line sixth (22:43). Michelle King was 12th, and Nicole Gradie, 13th for the Tigers.

Some of the top freshmen and sophomore high school cross country runners in the area will take to the field on Tuesday to compete in the annual Westland John Glenn Invitational.

The 10-team field will include harriers representing Belleville, Ann Arbor Huron, Redford Catholic Central, Dearborn, Edsel Ford, Garden City, Northville, Dearborn Heights Robichaud and Ypsilanti.

The meet, dominated by the River Rats from Huron the past two years, could be a repeat for the defending champs, which has a strong men and women's team again this year.

"They (Huron) must be considered the front runners in this one because they have an exceptional program over there," said Glenn coach Jess Shough. "But there are always surprises in meets like this."

The race will be conducted beginning at 4 p.m. on a course at the Westland Central City Park located behind the Westland City. The women will lead off the meet at 4 p.m., followed by the men's race at 4:30 p.m. There will also be an open race for all runners, including members of the varsity squads, Slough added.

Brandon Miller, representing Rogers City, crossed the finish line first in 16:25 to win individual honors. He led Alpena's Tim Allen (16:31) and Glenn sophomore Joe Wojtowicz (16:40) across the finish line.

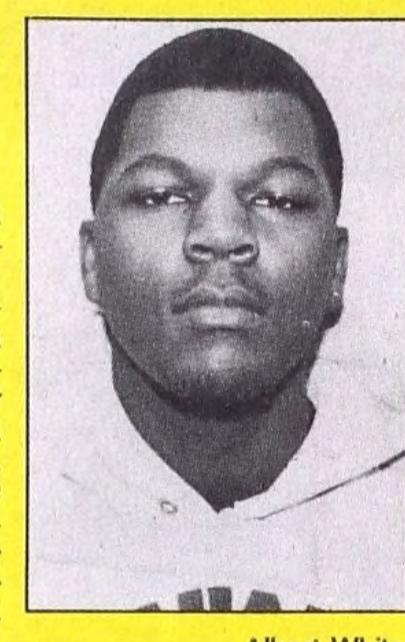

The Westlanders also counted the scores from: Brandon Molitor, who was fifth (17:04); Chris Gillen, seventh (17:21); Henry Honeycutt, 11th (17:32) and Todd Peterson.

White picks Wolverines

Inkster super-cager Al White will become a Wolverine in the fall.

The 6-7 power forward, considered one of the best high school prospects in the country, made his choice yesterday at a press conference staged in the library of the high school.

White, who led the Vikings to the Suburban Athletic Conference championship a year ago, averaged 20.8 points per game and hauled down 15 rebounds in a 23-1 junior season.

the two-point conversion, making it 8-0.

The Bulldogs struck again, this time in the second quarter, and it was Massey going in from the two. His TD was set up on a 16-yard up-the-middle run by Schumacker.

Alexander perfectly executed the option for the two pointer, making it a 18-0 ball game at halftime.

Schumacher accounted for the third and final TD of the game with another one of those up-the-middle sprints, this time going 14-yards for the score. He finished with 94 of the Bulldogs' 208 yards rushing in 13 carries.

Rouge was held to 25 yards on the ground and 27 in the air on a three of eight completion.

Kickoff for the SAC showdown is scheduled for 4 p.m. on Friday.

In the meantime, Inkster continued its SAC skid, losing to Highland Park 46-0.

Inkster coach Vic Calhoun said that he will have to reevaluate the Vikings and make some changes.

"Unfortunately, we have a lot of kids playing both ways," Calhoun added. "And when they tire they make mistakes."

There were six costly ones against the Parkers who turned them into easy scores.

Inkster will travel downriver on Friday to take on SAC opponent Ecorse, a team that the Vikings have not lost to in recent years.

COVER Girl

WESTLAND TEEN STARS IN AMERICA'S MOST WANTED

She was discovered at the age of 15 working in a Westland doughnut shop and within one year she has already appeared on a prime time television show and is scheduled to spend her next summer with the biggest modeling agency in the world.

Westland resident Sabrina Davidson got her start when modeling photographer Emin Kadi, also of Westland, went to buy a snack from Dunkin' Donuts, located on Warren Road in Westland. Kadi saw the young woman and approached her about doing some modeling.

That chance meeting kicked off Davidson's modeling career and now acting debut.

"Emin is the heart of it all. If it wasn't for him, I wouldn't be with the biggest modeling agent," Davidson said.

Kadi introduced the young beauty to a modeling agent who sent Davidson's photographs off to New York. Now Davidson will model with Elite Modeling Agency based in the Big Apple where she hopes to get more experience and "spread my name a little."

Although she only participated in one school play in junior high school, the Churchill High School junior was encouraged to attend auditions for a show on American's Most Wanted.

"The modeling agency said, 'You're really easy in front of the camera,'" Davidson said.

She was selected to play the daughter in an episode about a nanny who embezzles money from the family who employed her. The show aired Sept. 24 on the Fox Network, and, as a result, the fugitive is no longer among the "most wanted."

The actress portrayed Sarah Osmond, the 15-year-old daughter of a trucking couple who hired a nanny to take care of children while they were out on the highway.

The nanny lived at the family home for about one year and during that time period embezzled tens of thousands of dollars.

"The mother and nanny had an agreement where she could use checks for food and wages. She started forging the mother's signature," Davidson said.

Davidson said she really enjoyed the acting experience. "It was a breeze. It was a lot of facial expressions. I also got to work with animals and kids."

"I was talking to an ex-producer. He told me most people in Hollywood ... spend their whole life trying to act normal in front of the camera and never get there. He told her (Davidson) that she has what it takes," said the young model's father, Eddie Davidson. "He said he would personally set her in the right direction if she wants to pursue a career in acting."

At this point, the rising star has all her options open and she intends to expand them.

"You need some stability. Being famous is no guarantee," Davidson said.

She said she is unsure where she will attend college, but plans to become a pediatrician.

"It depends on my modeling and acting - where it takes me. I want to be a pediatrician, model and actress," the young woman said, adding that although all three careers are well-paying, acting pays the most.

"When you're modeling, you don't work for the unions. When you act, every time it airs, you get paid. It's better money," she said.

As a model, Davidson has participated in an AIDS benefit at the State Theater in Wayne, has appeared in the Detroit Free Press and on the Channel 7 production, Kelly and Company. Her picture is even posted in a Birmingham styling salon.

One of her most recent modeling jobs was at the hydroplane races in Detroit and for a clothing store in Birmingham. She also recently auditioned for an industrial movie.

"I love the attention. I crave attention," Davidson said.

Youth Living Centers agency offers outstanding programs

By IVAN HELFMAN
MCN Staff Writer

"No one would remember the Good Samaritan if he'd only had good intentions. He had money as well."

Margaret Thatcher's words take shape in Youth Living Centers, Inkster-based innovative private social agency, whose good works draw large corporate donations and state funding.

The grants pour in because of Youth Living Centers 20-year record of pioneering successful programs, such as the area's first runaway shelter in the area; developing a model group home for the Midwest; and developing a pilot program to teach wayward youths independent living skills.

"When we create a program, we look for a need to service and then develop a program, as opposed to an agency that goes after a program just because money is available for it," said Bob Ziolkowski, director of the independent living program.

In the wake of its success, its annual budget has grown to $3.5 million, its staff has grown to 110 professionals and 100 volunteers. It serves 500 children per year in-house and 6,000 children and family members through crisis calls, drop-in counseling, anti-drug presentations at schools, and other community programs. Since setting up headquarters in the former Inkster Harrison Elementary School, the agency offices and work rooms have grown to occupy 30,000 of the 40,000 square feet in the building.

The latest grants will fund two new programs in October. A $1 million grant from the Skillman Foundation, Detroit-Wayne County Community Mental Health, and various individual, corporate, and foundation contributors, will fund Safe Stay, shelters for children, ages newborn to nine, in two Westland homes. The program begins Oct. 1.

A $150,000 grant from Michigan State Housing Development Authority is funding Future Works, a housing renovation and job skills training program, targeted to help homeless young men, that is about to begin in Inkster.

Safe Stay Crisis and Nursery and Family Respite Care Center is open to Detroit-area children and families in crisis. Pat Hudson, community relations, said that about half of Youth Living Center clients are from western Wayne County.

Safe Stay's purpose is to provide safe, temporary shelter and services for up to 16 children at one time, and to provide services to their families. Its goals are to strengthen families, to provide "time out" for parents when on the verge of a child abuse or neglect situation, to support permanent placements for children destined to enter the social service system, or to provide a temporary haven for children in times of family disasters or emergencies. It will also tend for a limited time, medically fragile and crack babies.

"It will give us a chance to provide prevention or early intervention in a family crisis," said Melinda Clynes, who wrote the grant application.

Offered care will include enriched child care; medical exams and health care; and physical, developmental, psychological, and behavioral assessments. Support services, to be offered at the center or clients' homes, will include crisis intervention, short-term counseling, parenting classes, community resource referrals, and psychological evaluations.

Safe Stay will compliment two other Youth Living Centers shelters, which cater to older children. Counterpoint, in Inkster, is open to ages 10-16. Supervised Independent Living, with scattered residences, serves ages 16-19.

Future Works will provide homeless people an opportunity to learn home construction skills while renovating three dilapidated homes in Inkster that Youth Living Centers purchased last month. Each home will serve as a training site for at least six homeless men, who will work under a skilled contractor.

During the renovations, Youth Living Centers will house the trainees and provide counseling in life skills so that the men will learn how to get off the streets and into a home.

Once the three homes are fixed up, their 10 bedrooms will be used to provide transitional housing for 20 adults. The trainees will be eligible to occupy the homes if they meet the criteria.

Youth Living Centers continues to provide other services, including foster care, adoption, clinical care, and a variety of community and prevention programs.

The growth and success of the agency is creating a need for volunteers to join in the good works and a need for donations of money and goods.

Those tempted to help should call Dorothy Murphy, 728-3400.

Nostalgia

Memories of 'good old days' sought

Comments about World War II shortages and rationing from three area residents were featured in the October edition of Michigan History Magazine, published by the state.

In an article by Carey Draeger, Park Gregory of Belleville told about filling the meatless gaps during the 1940s with muskrats, which were trapped along the Detroit River, and Westland resident Lorraine Evans remembered learning to drink her coffee black during the days of rationing stamps.

Former Wayne resident Forrest Meek recalled working at a gas station across from Wayne High School and metering out rationed gasoline - three gallons at a time - to customers. He also noted that he patched old tires until they began to look "like Grandma's favorite quilt."

Knowing that there are many long-time residents in our six communities, Michigan Community Newspapers is launching a Nostalgia series featuring reminiscences from area men and women. Stories about the observance of Halloween, the celebration of Thanksgiving and Christmas as well as everyday events will be welcomed.

Individuals may submit memories of the "good old days," particularly events from the pre-World War II era, to Nostalgia Feature, Michigan Community Newspapers, 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne, Mich. 48184.

2 plead guilty in shoot-out

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
MCN Staff Writer

Charged with a felony for allegedly aiming his loaded shotgun at an elderly woman who pulled into his driveway to turn her vehicle around, Westland resident Ronald Harold Atkinson was bound over to Detroit Recorder's Court.

Atkinson, who was released on a $5,000 bond with the stipulation he have no contact with the complainant, waived his right to preliminary examination on charges of assault with a dangerous weapon and felony firearms before Westland 18th District Judge C. Charles Bokos. If convicted, he faces a mandatory sentence of two years in prison on the firearms charge and up to four years in prison for the assault.

The 59-year-old Westland man allegedly aimed the loaded firearm at the victim's head and attempted to fire his weapon at her as she drove down the street, according to Westland police Sgt. Marc Stobbe.

The 70-year-old Westland victim had just finished babysitting her grandchildren, who live across the street from the defendant at 1941 E. Williams Court, when the incident occurred.

She pulled her vehicle into Atkinson's driveway, at 1990 E. Williams Court, when the man came running out of the house with a shotgun aimed at the woman's head, Stobbe said.

The victim's grandchildren and their parents witnessed the attack.

Stobbe said Atkinson, who was charged with aggravated assault in 1970, claims he has no recollection of the assault.

Man accused of aiming gun at woman

The smoke has finally cleared in a gunfight which left one Westland man on reporting probation for a year and another incarcerated for 60 days.

Both George Patrick Merlino, 52, and Joseph Earl Justin, 33, pleaded guilty to their part in the Feb. 19 shoot-out. Although Justin was shot, no one was seriously injured.

Justin, who was charged with felonious assault, pleaded to the reduced misdemeanor charge of possession of a loaded weapon.

Merlino testified that he was inside the bedroom of his home when "a gentleman pulled up in a gray van with blue stripes yelling 'I'm gonna shoot ... George and pulled out a 12-gauge shotgun."

Conference set in area assault

A Wayne man charged with three counts of first-degree criminal sexual conduct is expected to appear for an Oct. 7 final conference before Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Geraldine Bledsoe Ford.

Ronald James Holt, 19, allegedly assaulted a Wayne woman Aug. 14, according to Wayne police Lt. Mel Drews. He was arraigned Aug. 15 before 29th District Court Judge Carolyn Archbold, and a $100,000 cash bond was set.

Drews said the victim knew the defendant. She was the one who called the police with the complaint.

A not guilty plea was entered during the arraignment. The Aug. 24 examination was waived, and Holt was bound over to Recorder's Court.

If Holt is found guilty of all three counts of first-degree criminal sexual conduct, he could receive up to life in prison, according to Drews.

Ford F-Series truck dominates the market

BY LAURIE HUMPHREY
MCN Staff Writer

The Ford F-Series truck continues to dominate the national market as well as sales in the Wayne County, said John Sivovek, manager of Atchinson Ford.

The Belleville car dealership boasts a wide variety of F-150 trucks to fit anyone's price range and specifications.

"Our trucks sell for $10,000 to $30,000," said the man. "They come in a range of different colors and offer many options."

For example, the F-150 comes in regular cab and Supercab versions, either of which can be ordered in one of two distinctive body styles - Styleside or Flareside. And there is a choice of two-wheel or four-wheel drive on wheelbases ranging from 117 to 155 inches.

Located at 9800 Belleville Road, 15 sales people are waiting to show consumers the number one seller from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday and Thursday, from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

According to Sivovek, there are many reasons the F-150 truck is such a big hit with men and women of all age groups.

"People like the utility, dependability, reliability and good looks," he said. "They are selling so fast, we are not able to get enough of them."

The F-150 engine choices include an efficient 4.9-liter inline six-cylinder engine and powerful 5.0-liter and 5.8-liter

V-8's. The 4.9-liter engine can be ordered to run on natural gas.

New to the F-series models include a privacy glass option and paint choice - Sapphire Blue Clearcoat Metallic. As many as 14 exterior colors are available, depending on the model. Consumers can choose from four interior colors.

Atchinson Ford has catered to the customers for over 30 years, receiving the distinguished achievement award over the last two years. Awards are given based on customer satisfaction.

Mustangs are hot, sporty

BY LAURIE HUMPHREY
MCN Staff Writer

The newly-designed Ford Mustang is attracting both old and new buyers, according to Blackwell Ford sales manager Len Gossman.

"Bringing back the sleek '60s design is causing a lot of people who had the original 1964 and 1965 Mustangs to try it again," he said. "But it is definitely a car for all age groups."

Priced between $15,000 and $25,000, the Mustang appeals to all ages with a 3.8-liter V-6 engine or 5.0-liter High Output V-8. Select dealers also offer the Mustang Cobra model with a 5.0-liter Super High Performance V-8 complete with special heads and valve train.

The Mustang LX, GT and Cobra are offered in the coupe or convertible style. Convertibles, accounting for one in three sales, come with amenities like a color-keyed cloth headliner and heated rear window, with easy-up, easy-down soft top.

Blackwell Ford matches each Mustang with their new owner Monday and Thursday from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m., and Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

"There used to be a four to five month wait," said Gossman, "because these cars were selling so fast. But availability is getting better. Now, we can get a car in six to eight weeks."

The Mustang boasts a power four wheel disc, anti-lock brake system and 15 gallon gas tank. A five-speed manual overdrive is standard, and an electronically controlled four-speed automatic overdrive transmission is optional.

According to Gossman, Blackwell Ford, located at 41001 Plymouth Road, between Interstate 275 and Haggerty Road, in Plymouth, is the preferred dealership for any Ford product.

"People tell us customer satisfaction is why they keep coming back," he said.

Ford Taurus remains popular family car

They're hot for 1995, and dealers can't keep them in stock.

The 1995 Ford Escort and Taurus are loaded this year with many new features and essentials the entire family can enjoy.

"The new Taurus SE and GL sport models are really sharp," said Steve Visel, general sales manager for Jack Demmer Ford in Wayne, 37300 Michigan Ave. "It gives you a nicer look at a lesser price."

To complement the solid family car image that has made Ford Taurus America's best-selling car, a model with sporty overtones has been added for 1995.

Designed for younger, import-oriented buyers, the new five-passenger SE model has sport bucket front seats (similar to those on the Taurus SHO), cast aluminum wheels, and crystalline clear headlight lenses.

A rear-decklid spoiler is available as an option.

With the addition, the Taurus model lineup consists of the GL, SE, LX and the high-performance SHO.

The Taurus powertrain for 1995 is quieter and smoother, due primarily to a new electronically controlled four-speed automatic transmission.

Ford-patented Solar Tint glass is now in the windshield and rear windows of Taurus sedans and the windshield of wagons. Solar Tint blocks up to 24 percent more of the sun's heat than regular tinted glass, reduces glare and helps the air-conditioning system operate more efficiently.

It also reduces heat buildup while the car is sitting in the sun.

Air conditioning and a rear window defroster are now standard on all Taurus models.

The Ford Escort, America's best-selling subcompact car and the leader in overall wagon sales, adds to its winning ways for 1995 with a dual air bag supplemental restraint system and a new instrument panel design.

"All of the Escorts are sporty, and they are selling fast," said Visel. "They are also affordable."

Escort's popular One Price plan continues for the 1995 model year. Under the plan, customers may buy any LX three-four-five-door or wagon at the same manufacturer's suggested retail price.

One Price cars are well-equipped. They include a CFC-free air-conditioning system, AM/FM stereo radio with digital clock and remote-control driver-side mirror.

The 1995 Escort's new wrap-around instrument panel combines up-to-date styling with added safety by providing space for a passenger-side air bag. Knee bolsters on the instrument panel provide additional protection.

An integrated child seat is a new safety option for 1995.

To take a look at the new Ford Escort and Taurus, visit Jack Demmer Ford in Wayne or call for more information at 313-721-2600.

Contour is making waves of excitement

BY LAURIE HUMPHREY
MCN Staff Writer

It may have just hit the streets, but the Ford Contour is making waves in the world of car sales.

"There has been a lot of interest," said Paul Anderson, salesman at Village Ford in Dearborn. "It's voted number one in safety, affordability and roominess."

Packaged for customers between the ages of 25 and 40, the Contour is a cross between the Ford Escort and Taurus. It is intended to attract singles, young couples, and young families with children still at home.

The Contour is available in three series - the GL, the upscale LX and the sporty GE.

Technological strong-points for the car include a Duratec V-6 System, which is standard on the Special Edition series and optional on other Contour models. It features an all-new, all-aluminum low maintenance 2.5-liter 24-valve DOHC V-6 engine and four-wheel disc brakes. Additionally, platinum-tipped spark plugs enable the 170-horsepower Duratec engine to hit 100,000 miles before its first scheduled tune-up.

"It was rated the number one car in Europe," said Anderson. "With the official entry 1995 cars is aimed at satisfying the needs of the full spectrum of customers across the country," he said.

An example of high quality and meeting consumer demand can be found throughout the car. It is particularly apparent when consumers search for the radio antenna. It has been embedded in the rear window glass, along with the defroster heating elements.

The vehicle comes in 10 different exterior colors for 1995 including the new Light Willow Green, Medium Willow Green and Silver Frost. All are clear coat metallic paints.

Three of the five interior trim colors are also new - Saddle, Willow Green and Graphite. The Ford car, powered by an advanced-technology modular 4.6-liter overhead-cam V-8 engine, meets 1997 federal safety standards with dual air bags and side-impact protection.

Bill Brown, located at 35000 Plymouth Road, is open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday and Thursday and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday.

date only Sept. 29, we already have a lot on order."

The Contour is known for its safety features including: a dual air bag supplemental restraint system; an anti-submarine seat design to help keep occupants from slipping forward in a sudden stop or impact; "Safety Cell" unitized body with high-strength boron steel side-beams, which meet 1997 federal safety standards; optional anti-lock braking system; and the optional All-Speed Traction Control System that helps the driver maintain control and steer ability on slippery surfaces at high and low speeds.

Priced between $15,000 and $19,000, Anderson guarantees all customers will receive a fair price and a good car at Village Ford.

"We are a one-and-only price-dealer," Anderson said. "Customers do not have to negotiate for three hours for a good deal. The price on the sticker is the absolute lowest price."

"And we sell the same car to everyone for the same price," he continued. "That's the way it needs to be in the '90s."

Located at 2353 Michigan Avenue, sale associates focus on the customer Monday and Thursday from 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m., Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Mystique offers added convenience and safety

Lincoln-Mercury highlights for the 1995 model year include the all-new Mercury Mystique and the Mercury Sable.

The Mystique combines customer-oriented technology, comfort, convenience and safety with luxury appointments and superior driving characteristics.

The five-passenger front wheel-drive sedan comes with a choice of two advanced-technology power plants -- a 2.0-liter 16-valve DOHC four-cylinder engine or an all-aluminum low-maintenance 2.5-liter 24-valve DOHC V-6 that is the heart of the new Duratec V-6 System. The Duratec engine can be driven 100,000 miles before its first scheduled tune-up.

"Mystique is a whole new design. It sets a trend for the future. Everything about it is new. It's been well thought out," Varsity Lincoln-Mercury manager Don Smith said.

The sporty new LTS model is on tap for the Mercury Sable line for 1995. It has dual leather sport bucket seats with six-way power, cast aluminum wheels, and distinctive body-side cladding.

All new Sables have a smoother-shifting four-speed automatic transmission, and their windshields have Solar Tint glass, which blocks out more of the sun's heat and ultraviolet rays than regular tinted glass. The new glass is also used in the rear windows of Sable sedans.

"The Sable is a dependable, quality car. It's one of the best built production line cars in the United States. You get a lot more than what you pay for," Smith said.

Lincoln-Mercury drivers will be pleased with the complimentary 24-hour Roadside Assistance. By dialing a toll-free number, they can get help in changing a flat tire, jump-starting a dead battery, obtaining fuel for an empty tank, getting into their locked car and being towed.

For a look at these sleek 1995 models, visit Varsity Lincoln-Mercury, located at 49251 Grand River in Novi from 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Mondays and Thursdays, from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays or from 8:30 to 5 p.m. Saturdays. For more information, call (810)305-5300.

New Cavaliers offered in 3 sporty body styles

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Having just finished the best year in the 40-year history of Tennyson Chevrolet, Kit Tennyson said he expects the entire series of 1995 Chevrolets to be best sellers again this year.

Tennyson said the 1995 Cavaliers definitely will be on top of the list, as it has been for the last 12 years. "This year's model will feature a brand new design," he said, "as well as added comfort and safety features."

The new Cavalier will be offered in three body styles: four-door sedan, two-door coupe and sporty convertible.

In addition, ride quality has been improved through the use of a new torque axis mounting system that reduces engine vibration. It also will have more shoulder room, more front hip room and more rear leg room than the previous model. Driver and front passenger-side air bags are now standard.

Front and rear five-mph bumpers simply shrug off minor impacts.

Assembly of the new Cavalier has been simplified, as 28 percent of the part numbers of the earlier model have been eliminated.

Tennyson, whose showroom is at 32570 Plymouth Rd., Livonia, also expects the 1995 Chevrolet Camaro convertible to be one of his hottest sellers.

"The hot Camaro Z-28 convertible is priced less than comparable models of other brands," Jim Perkins, General Motors vice president and Chevrolet general manager stated, "and it includes a 275-horsepower, 5.7 liter Corvette engine as standard equipment, far superior to its competitors."

All Camaros have dual air bags, four-wheel anti-lock brakes and GM Pass Key II anti-theft system as standard equipment.

"Squeaks and rattles often found in the aftermarket conversions will not be found in the Camaro," Perkins said, "as the Camaro convertible was designed as a drop top from the ground up."

Perkins continued "no one in this industry is introducing as much new product as Chevrolet over the next few months and we'll introduce more new cars and trucks in the next few years than anyone in history. "Genuine Chevrolet will be more than a blip on the radar screen," Perkins added, "it's not a slogan -- it's a new spirit and way of life."

Perkins said "genuine Chevrolet is a statement of integrity and honesty that means you're as good as your word."

With full confidence, Perkins said "every new vehicle we've introduced since 1992 has been a flat-out, stone hit in the marketplace. We're six for six in product launches and looking for more of the same."

Perkins said that beside overhauling its product lineup, Chevrolet also completely revamped its sales and service organization and forged a new partnership with its dealers.

"We now have 70 percent of our sales and service team members in the field working with our dealers and customers. We also have a renewed customer focus in our product designs and in our marketing programs," Perkins said.

Krug showcases outstanding Lincoln/Mercury 1994 models

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
MCN Staff Writer

The hot, new 1995 model for Lincoln/Mercury automobiles is the Mercury Mystique, according to Greg Krug, owner of Krug Lincoln/Mercury in Dearborn.

The mid-size automobile combines customer-oriented technology, comfort, convenience and safety with luxury appointments and superior driving characteristics.

"It's a finely outfitted car," Krug said.

The four-door Mystique sedan features front-wheel drive with the choice of two advanced-technology power plants - a 2.0-liter 16-valve DOHC four-cylinder engine or an all-aluminum low-maintenance 2.5-liter 24-valve DOHC V-6. This new Duratec V-6 engine can be driven 100,000 miles before its first scheduled tune-up.

The addition of the all-new Mercury Mystique makes us a significant player in the fast growing mid-size sedan market for the first time," said Keith Magee, Ford Motor Company vice president and Lincoln-Mercury Division general manager.

Lincoln-Mercury drivers also receive complimentary 24-hour Roadside Assistance. By dialing a toll-free number, car owners can get help changing a flat tire, jump-starting a dead battery, obtaining fuel for an empty tank, getting into their locked car, and even being towed.

Krug Lincoln/Mercury, located at 21531 Michigan Avenue in Dearborn, is open from 7 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Mondays and Thursdays and from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Fridays. For more information, call 274-8800.

Chrysler Neon concept provides trend-setting design features

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
MCN Staff Writer

It's roomy, safe and priced just right.

That's how Mike Thompson, sales manager of Livonia Chrysler Plymouth describes the 1995 Neon cars.

With a starting price of $9,500, the Neon and Neon Sport in two and four-door models, have a cab-forward design, dual air bags, side impact door bars and are economical, Thompson said.

Other safety features include available anti-lock brakes, integrated child safety seat, child safety rear door locks and three-point active front seatbelts with adjustable turning loops and traveling inboard buckles.

The 2.0-liter, 16-valve and 5-speed transmission autos come in exciting "bright" colors.

"When we looked at the 20-plus competitors in the small car market several years ago, we realized that in order to stand out from the crowd, Neon would have to be dramatically different in design, performance, safety and value," said Robert Lutz, Chrysler Corporation president and chief operating officer.

"Our award-winning Neon concept car gave us the trend-setting design direction, including the new round headlamps, and a new and emerging market of buyers provided our course for fun-to-drive and safety," Lutz said. "With Neon, we think we've created a small car people will want to buy for reasons other than low price. In fact, we think Neon will be one of the first small cars people will want to buy instead of have to buy."

ins, cups and anything else busy drivers might require.

Neon represents Chrysler's most comprehensive, environmentally-sound vehicle, including elimination of chlorofluorocarbon-producing refrigerants; use of water-based paints; coded plastic parts for improving recycling; minimized use of painted plastic parts for increased recyclability; and increased recycling of paint packaging, sheet metal scraps and plastic fascia scraps.

For more information on the new Neon, call Livonia Chrysler Plymouth at 525-5000 or go see the new model from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday and Thursday and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday at 30777 Plymouth Road in Livonia.

1995 Lumina arrives with 120 new design changes

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The totally redesigned 1995 Chevrolet Lumina and Blazer are already exciting the car buying public this fall, Susan Ianni, general manager of Gordon Chevrolet of Garden City, reported last Friday.

More than 2,000 persons participated in focus groups and clinics that helped Chevrolet engineers develop the new Lumina with more than 120 changes within the past year.

Working with the most extensive pre-launch feedback in Chevrolet history, the new Lumina provides the highest initial quality of any Chevrolet ever built.

Lumina prototypes were built in Warren, Mich. by assembly plant employees and use several hundred fewer parts thus speeding assembly line time. Standard equipment includes dual air bags, air conditioning, automatic transmission, four-wheel anti-lock brakes, Pass-Key theft deterrent system, power door locks, rear-door child security locks and adjustable safety belts.

The Lumina and Monte Carlos are the first General Motor cars to use a new family of Delco radios with a built-in graphic equalizer. Uplevel radios will have speed-sensitive audio, as car speed increases and outdoor noise becomes louder, the radio volume increases to compensate for the higher noise level.

During the night, Lumina drivers will enjoy standard theatre lighting, which emits bright light when a car door is opened and then gradually dims when the doors are closed.

The upholstery on LS model seats has more refined "French seams," an attribute usually found in more expensive luxury cars.

The Lumina is one of the quietest Chevrolets yet, with sound-deadening materials, structural improvements and new sealing techniques.

In fact, the Lumina's 3.1 Liter engine's interior sound level is lower than top competitor engines.

At times this engine is so quiet that drivers initially do not realize the car is running.

Current car buyers also really like the "hot new design of the 1995 Blazer," Ianni said, "feeling that it looks more like a car than a truck."

The all-new 1995 Blazer combines the comfort and convenience of a luxury passenger car with the toughness and capability that buyers expect from a truck.

The compact S-Blazer will drop its "S" prefix and simply be known as the Blazer. It will be powered by a 195 horsepower 4.3 Liter V6 engine with Central Port Fuel Injection, producing 30 more horsepower than last year's standard engine.

Its chassis is thoroughly redesigned and its combination of stiff body structure and custom fit suspension help produce improvements in ride and handling.

The all-new interior was designed without adding excessive exterior bulk, while providing plenty of cargo space.

Ianni stresses that the revived Monte Carlo also will be a major seller this year, after a six year absence from the market.

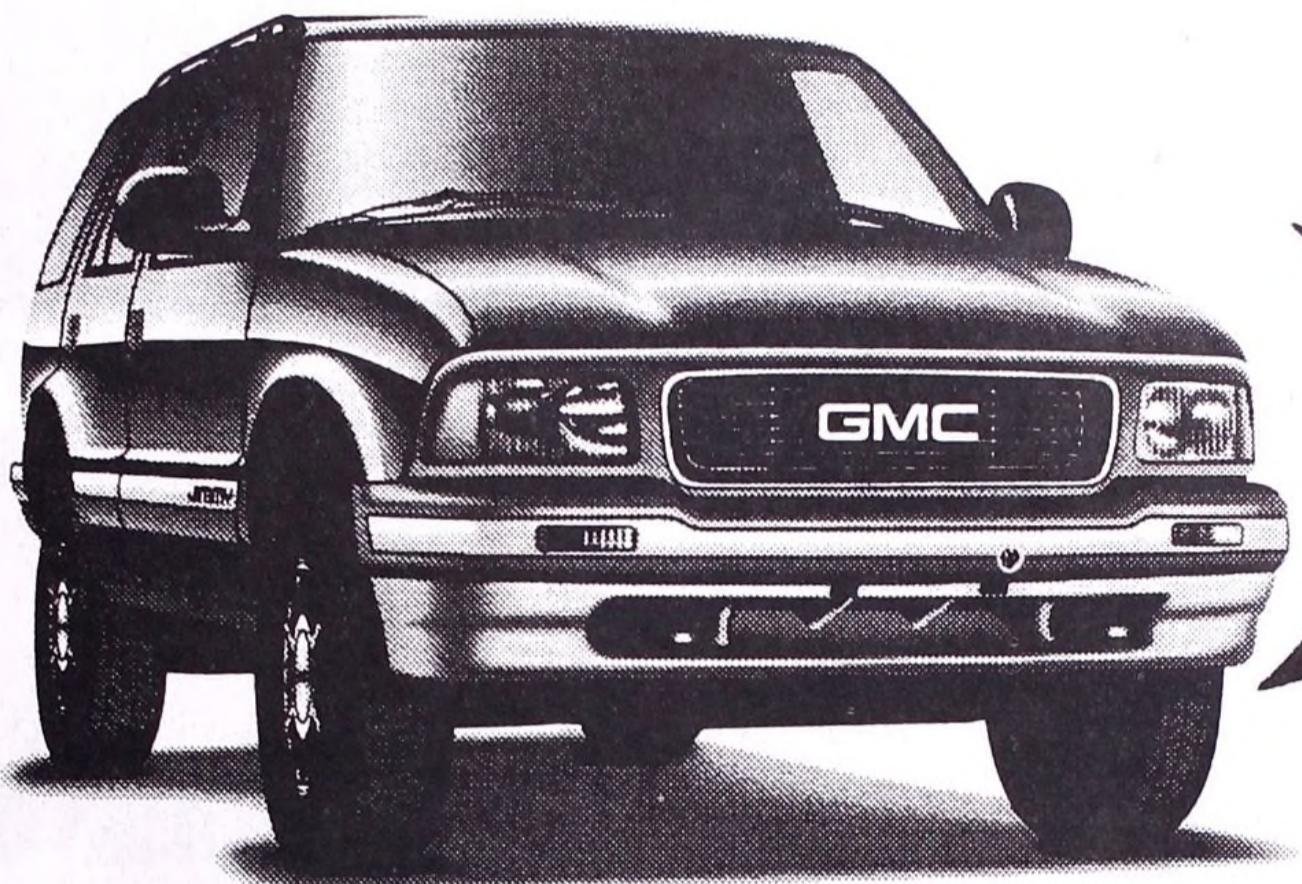

The 1995 Monte Carlo is designed around the driver, emphasizing personal comfort and driving control. It features a 3.1 liter sequential-port fuel injection dual overhead camshaft V6 engine as standard.

Other standard equipment will include dual air bags and four-wheel anti-lock brakes.

The Monte Carlo was first produced in 1970 and was last produced in 1988.

Monte Carlo highlights driving control, comfort

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

New styling and safety features in the 1995 Chevrolet Monte Carlo, Blazer and Cavalier models are sure to attract the car buyers' eyes this year, Ron Chaudoin of Lou Larche Chevrolet of Plymouth revealed last week.

The Monte Carlo is a personal car designed around the driver, emphasizing personal comfort and driving control.

In addition to the all new sheet metal and an all new interior, the Monte Carlo will deliver a high level of amenities at an affordable Chevrolet price.

Chaudoin said standard equipment includes dual air bags, air conditioning, an automatic transmission, four-wheel anti-lock brakes, PASS Key II anti-theft deterrent system, power door locks, adjustable safety belts, a storage armrest with cup holder and seat back storage pockets.

"The new air bags and anti-lock brakes are the hot buttons for car buyers this year," Chaudoin said.

The compact S-Blazer will drop the S designation and simply be known as the Blazer and the full-size K-Blazer has been renamed Tahoe for 1995.

Monte Carlo models are the first cars in the GM line to use a new family of Delco radios, with a built-in graphic equalizer. Up-level radios will also have speed-sensitive audio (as car speed increases and outside noise becomes louder, the radio volume increases to compensate for the higher noise level).

The addition of new sound-deadening materials, structural improvements, precise body fits and new sealing techniques, mark the 1995 Monte Carlo as one of the quietest Chevrolets in history.

Meanwhile the all new 1995 Blazer combines the comfort of a luxury passenger car with the toughness and flexibility buyers expect in a truck.

The compact S-Blazer will drop the S designation and simply be known as the Blazer and the full-size K-Blazer has been renamed Tahoe for 1995.

The long list of standard equipment includes a four-wheel anti-lock brake system, a driver-side air bag, child security rear door locks, air conditioning, tinted glass, light-duty trailer wiring harness, base-coat/clear-coat paint, floor mats and twin below-eye exterior mirrors.

The new 1995 Cavalier also features state-of-the-art safety features including dual air bags and anti-lock brakes as standard features, rear-door child security locks (sedans), child comfort guide safety belt adjusters and safety belts designed for safety seats.

New Chrysler Cirrus is named 'a winner'

and finish and a quieter car that's larger than a compact, still looks good, and perfect for families.

Schebil attributes the quiet ride to the robotics used in Chrysler's new production methods. "To stiffen (and thereby quiet) the structure, computers analyzed the shape and joining of components. On the assembly line, robots make every single body weld." The components all fit.

He said that the car's uniform finish is created by a new paint system that electrically charges the body so exact amounts of paint are applied each time.

The Cirrus aims to be sport and luxurious. "It's styling is reminiscent of a sporty coup's grace; its handling is evocative of a sporty coupe's behavior," Schebil said.

The handling is enhanced by Chrysler's unique modified double wishbone suspension system, which enables ride and handling characteristics to be handled separately.

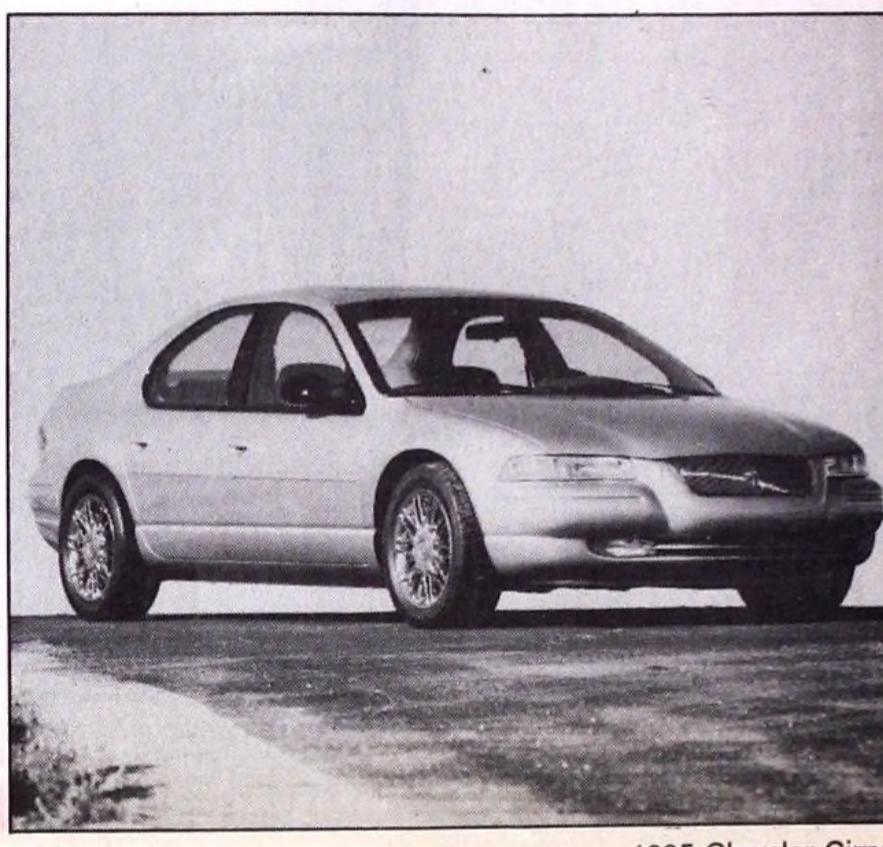

The Cirrus is powered by a

2.5 liter, 24-valve, V6 engine.

The Cirrus has a full complement of safety features, including passive equipment, such as air bags and door beams that protect automatically, and active systems, such as antilock brakes, which give the driver the ability to stop quickly while maintaining steering control.

Standard features include an AM/FM stereo with a cassette player, and leather-faced seats. The sports package includes 15" aluminum wheels, touring tires, rear stabilizer bar, and an alarm system.

It's also the only car that comes from the factory without an ashtray. "Surveys say that people don't use them," said Schebil, "but the dealership can put them in."

Quote of the Week

"We don't think twice about paying a doctor $40 for four seconds or an attorney hundreds of dollars per hour."

Wayne resident Cliff Johnson commenting on the recent Westland council decision to increase the prevailing wage requirement from the proposed $50,000 to $75,000. Westland council members approved the prevailing wage issue last week.

Of Note

School project prompts parents' altercation

Miller Elementary School in Canton Township was the starting point for an altercation between a mother and father showing support for their child at an open house.

The 24-year-old mother walked in to the Canton Police Department on Sept. 27 claiming that her husband dragged her from a moving car.

According to the woman, the father of her child left the school with a project made by the student. She unsuccessfully attempted to stop him from leaving the school building and followed him to the parking lot.

When she grabbed inside the car for the project, a small construction paper book, the driver pulled her arms over the door frame, shut the door tightly and drove off, police said.

The alleged victim told authorities her husband drove for a short time, then slammed on his brakes, causing the woman to fly off the door and hit the pavement.

She picked herself up and began walking back to the school, when a witness rushed to help her. He confirmed her allegations with police.

The woman is seeking prosecution for the felonious assault. She sustained an injured leg, lacerations and bruising.

Man accused of raping wife

After a 31-year-old Westland woman claimed her husband attempted to sexually assault her in their Portland Street home, the alleged offender was arraigned on charges of criminal sexual conduct (CSC) before Westland 18th District Judge C. Charles Bokos.

The defendant, who was charged with CSC assault with intent to commit sexual penetration, faces up to 10 years in prison and a mandatory AIDS test if convicted.

He is being held on a $20,000 bond and is scheduled to appear in court for preliminary examination Oct. 20. If the suspect posts bond, he is prohibited from returning to his home or having any other contact with his wife.

The alleged assault occurred Oct. 2 at the couple's home located on the 1300 block of Portland.

During the attack the victim said she suffered bruising to her breast and thigh by her husband. Westland police Sgt. Michael Terry said the couple is going through a divorce.

Terry added that the victim told him her husband was charged with felonious assault against her before she dropped the charges and from 1980 to 1985 there were between eight and 10 police dispatches to the home on complaints of domestic violence.

Puzzle solved

'Blue' identified as suspect in slaying

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

The missing piece in a puzzle to a 1993 murder case was put into place by a reader of the Inkster Ledger-Star who recognized one of the alias used by a prime suspect wanted by police.

The information provided to Inkster Detective Richard Rashad led to the issuance of a warrant charging a 19-year-old transient with second degree murder.

Local and area police are seeking Gregory Darnell Housch, also known as "Blue," for the murder of David Brown, an Inkster resident.

Brown was shot and killed on Oct. 1 between the hours of 1:30 to 3:30 a.m. His bullet-riddled body was dumped at the doors to the Annapolis Hospital in Wayne.

Witnesses at the time told Wayne police that a speeding vehicle, occupied by a black male and female, stopped at the hospital emergency entrance and dumped the victim's body from the vehicle.

Witnesses identified the vehicle as an Oldsmobile Cutlass.

"We have been investigating this case for the past year and getting nowhere. Thanks to the reader of the Inkster-Ledger Star, we believe this case can finally be put to rest."

Det. Rashad

Wayne police officers, Lt. Mel Drews and Sgt. Michael Sumeracki were dispatched to the scene to investigate and, after interviewing some witnesses determined that the venue was an Inkster homicide and handed the case over to the Inkster Detective Bureau.

"We have been investigating this case for the past year," said Det. Rashad, "and getting nowhere. However, one of the readers of the Inkster-Ledger Star stepped forward with some pertinent information. The witness provided us with the identity of the suspect.

"We are asking the media not to reveal anything about this witness - age or sex or where the witness lives until the suspect is apprehended."

Rashad said that Housch, a convicted drug-dealer, shot and killed Brown after a chance meeting in the Pine and Williams streets area. He said that the two had an earlier altercation which ended in the exchange of gun fire. Both received serious bullet wounds but recovered.

When Brown showed in the area of Pine and Williams on that fateful Oct. 1 night, he apparently did not know that the drugs he was about to purchase were from his archenemy, a person known to him as Blue.

Blue, however, recognized Brown and pulled out his gun and shot the would-be drug-buyer five times, according to police.

"Thanks to this reader of the hometown newspapers, we believe this case can finally be put to rest," Rashad said.

The Ledger Star is one of seven newspapers published by the Michigan Community Newspapers.

Daredevil Wayne man takes victory 'fun run'

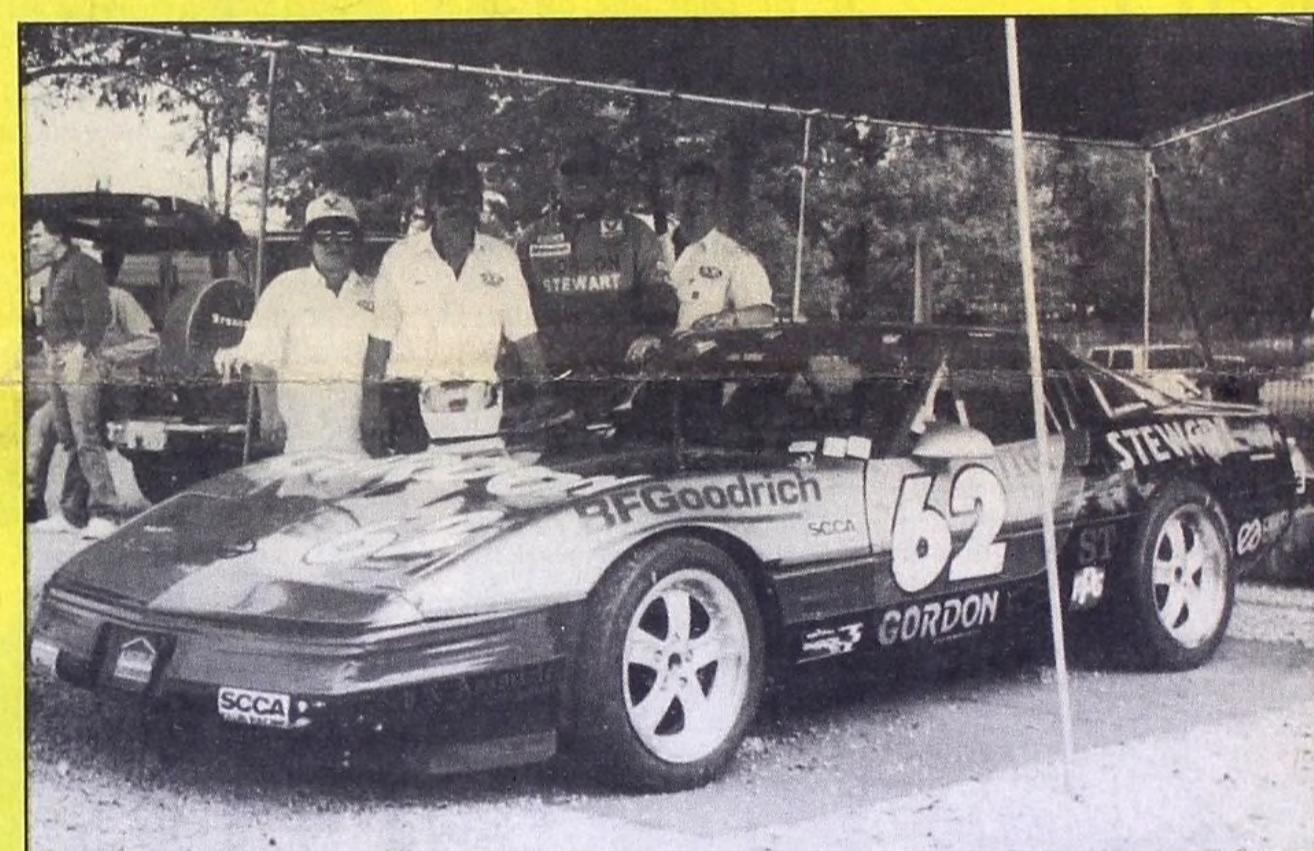

By MARGO DEWEY

With only a few words of advice and a couple of lessons from professional race car driver Kip Wasenko, Wayne resident Michael Harris felt the thrill of racing down a daredevil course in a 1988 Corvette where the driver has only the speed of light to guide him.

Harris participated in the recent Waterford Hills "End Of The Season Fun-Run". It was the first time he ever raced on a road course.

"It was a lot of fun," Harris said. "I am used to driving race cars because I drove a track car in Tennessee before. This was the first time, however, that I drove on a road course, and it's a whole different ballgame. You have a lot more right turns you have to

Vacant buildings house grenade, live ammunition

BY LAURIE HUMPHREY
MCN Staff Writer

The discovery of live ammunition, a hand grenade and bullet holes in a structure adjacent to the Willow Run Airport has sparked an investigation by 21st District Representative Deborah Whyman (R-Canton).

After receiving a number of calls from constituents in Van Buren Township, Whyman investigated a group of abandoned houses on Denton Road, near Willow Run Airport.

"Whenever I get more than five calls on an issue, I consider it a crisis," said the local legislator. "I wanted to go, but I did not want to go by myself."

During a "casual conversation" with an out-of-district citizen, Whyman discovered that others had heard about the incidents and wanted to search the area and Whyman went with them.

"We went to the houses and found live ammunition," she said. "There was a hand grenade with the pin pulled out that had to be put in a bomb box."

Aside from the grenade, Whyman alleges she found active shells, bullet holes in the walls of several houses and a 14-inch hole caused by an explosion.

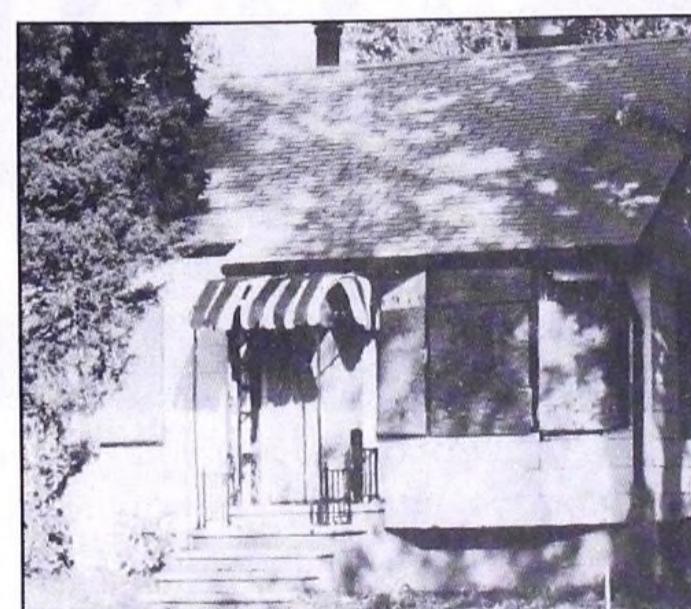

This was all found at a place where Van Buren Township police said no live ammunition was being used, she indicated.

"But there were federal firearm agents and military people with me who verified that it was live ammunition," said the representative.

While disturbed with her finding of live rounds, the district lawmaker said she was more disturbed that these houses were not boarded up and were a potential hazard for trespassers.

"If a child would have gone in and gotten hurt, it would have been very serious," she said.

"Two high school girls also stopped their cars when we were out there and told me two gangs occupied which houses," she said. "They would not go on camera because they were afraid of

Deborah Whyman, 21st District Representative (R-Canton), said she found live ammunition in the abandoned house on Denton Road. Two high school girls speculated that the walls were spray painted and doors were kicked in by gangs. MCN photo by Kimberly Woloski retaliation at school."

Spray painted walls and kicked-in doors supported the girls' speculations that the house may have been occupied by gangs.

According to township records, the land belongs to the Wayne County, which purchased the site for future expansion of Willow Run Airport. The land owner can allow military training exercises to take place on the site under the current law.

So that is where Whyman is hoping to make the difference.

"I'm introducing legislation that says these type of exercises can not occur in residential areas," she said. "The police have an obligation to protect the residents. They are saying they do not have jurisdiction on that land. They said that because it belongs to the county, it is the responsibility of the airport police, and that is unacceptable."

"The Van Buren Police Department did not even know who was accountable," Whyman said.

The legislation could ban only select training exercises or all exercises depending on how it was worded, she indicated.

The local politician indicated that there are records citing who was using which building at which time, but she did not know who possessed those records. She did not indicate whether or not these groups paid a fee to use the facilities.

The military exercises have been going on for more than a year, said the state representative. The area is used by local special unit teams, federal agencies and local police departments.

The groups come in for a couple of days and then leave. They are responsible for boarding the buildings back up and cleaning up.

"I don't want them here if they're going to be messy," Whyman said.

A legislative investigation is underway to determine who allegedly left the live rounds and what type of penalties that group should face.

In the meantime, Whyman has ordered the buildings to be boarded up to protect the surrounding residents, the closest being 200 yards away from the site.

Although township officials send notices to surrounding residents about upcoming training dates, residents are not notified about who is there or what they are doing. Whyman also questions the reasoning behind this.

She remains unsure as to how long the investigation could take explaining it will depend on how cooperative people are who have the records.

"I believe some people who use the site are responsible and do clean up after themselves,"

Bystanders come to the aid of car accident victims

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Managing Editor

A tragic accident last Monday, in which one teen was killed and her brother and a friend injured, prompted outstanding action from those on the scene.

Ypsilanti resident Teresa Heater, 17, was killed and her brother, Richard, 7, and friend, Paula Newland, 17, were injured when they fell from the hood of a car driven by an unlicensed 14-year-old friend in the parking lot of North Middle School.

Bystanders came to the aid of the victims, comforting the injured and lifting the car to enable rescuers to reach the two female victims.

"I was leaving work (at the Van Buren Township Hall) when the call came through," said Van Buren Township Supervisor David Jacokes. "When I arrived on the scene, police units had already responded. We observed that the two girls were trapped under the car, one (Heater) apparently was deceased. The other girl's foot was pinned under a tire."

"When I arrived on the scene, police units had already responded. We observed that the two girls were trapped under the car..."

David Jacokes

Jacokes said he and other bystanders realized that the only way to free the young accident victim would be to lift the car and hold it while the emergency workers extricated her from under the car.

"There just wasn't time to call for a wrecker. We knew that we had to free the girls as soon as possible," the township supervisor said.

"I didn't count how many people helped, but they were bumper to bumper. There were police officers, men who had come to see the football practice and other bystanders," Jacokes said. "We lifted the car and pulled it slightly so that the Huron Valley Ambulance crew could free the two girls trapped under the car."

Jacokes said he was impressed with the number of people who came to help.

"It never ceases to amaze me how many people are willing to help," Jacokes said. "A nurse who was on the scene took care of the distraught 14-year-old who was driving the car and stayed with her until her parents arrived. Everyone was helpful and willing to provide whatever assistance they could."

"These are not the kind of people who stand back and wait for someone else to do a job. It was the right thing to do, and they did it," Jacokes said.

The boy, 7, and the 17-year-old young woman were conveyed to St. Joseph's Hospital, and Richard Heater was later transferred to the University of Michigan Hospital.

Federal authorities capture 2 bank robbery suspects

By LAURIE HUMPHREY
MCN Staff Writer

Local and federal authorities believe they have the two men responsible for the Sept. 14 armed robbery of Standard Federal Bank in Canton Township. They caught up with the suspects after a similar robbery in Livonia.

They are Faison William, 23, of Canton Township and a 16-year-old Detroit acquaintance.

"On Oct. 5 at approximately 12 p.m., Livonia Police put out information that an armed robbery of a bank on Plymouth Road just occurred," said Capt. Laura Golles of the Canton Township Police. "The description of the suspects and the pattern of the crime appeared to match that of the bank robbery Canton had."

Dispatchers recognized the correlation and advised the detective bureau and road officers, who set up a surveillance inside and around the Franklin Palmer Apartments, where the adult suspect lived.

"We drove to the apartment and waited outside for them," said Canton Township Detective Jerry Hardesty.

Officers observed the suspects pull into the parking lot of the apartment complex at 12:30 p.m. When authorities attempted to confront the men, they fled.

One suspect was apprehended in the laundry room of a building and the other was located a few buildings away.

According to Hardesty, authorities have had the men under surveillance for more than a week, but officers needed more evidence before they could make an arrest.

Money and a cache of loaded weapons were recovered from the defendants. The money was returned to the Livonia bank, the weapons were confiscated.

Before the men allegedly committed each robbery, they would carjack a vehicle to use as a get-away car. Then they would drop off the stolen car in another spot, where their car was waiting for them, police said.

"There was no third person," said Hardesty.

Neither of the men have prior felony convictions, but both could spend the rest of their lives in prison if found guilty of the armed robbery charges against them. Robbing a bank is a federal offense.

The men will also face charges of carjacking a vehicle in Westland.

William was arraigned Oct. 6 on charges involved with the Livonia robbery in U.S. District Court-East Michigan District. The judge denied a request to set bond and remanded him to Wayne County jail pending his appearance before a grand jury next Wednesday.

"If he is indicted by the grand jury, he will bypass a preliminary examination," said Hardesty.

The county prosecutor will request that the juvenile be charged as an adult in 16th District Court next Tuesday. Canton authorities expect to make the same request in 35th District Court within a month.

"The Federal agents have no jurisdiction over him because he is a juvenile," said Hardesty.

If the county prosecutor is unable to convince the judge to charge the teen as an adult, he will be remanded to juvenile court in Detroit. If the prosecutor is successful, the youth will go through Detroit Recorder's Court if a judge determines there was probably a crime committed and he was probably involved.

Harris and his wife, Nikki, are crew members of the Imagery Enhancement Racing Team. Michael Harris, a service technician for Gordon Chevrolet in Garden City, was appointed crew chief of Wasenko's number 62 Corvette.

"The car is really fast," Harris said. "I really couldn't tell you just how fast I was actually going. Next year I will be co-driving the car with Kip who asked me to assist him. It will be a great opportunity."

Harris said he has had a love for cars ever since he was a child.

"I have worked in GM dealers for more than 17 years," Harris said. "I was raised around cars. The faster they go, the better I like them."

Harris said he is partial to Corvettes because he works on them quite often. When he participated in the "Fun-Run", he said everyone from Gordon Chevrolet was cheering him on.

"I got a lot of support from everyone, and it was a terrific race," Harris said.

The Wayne resident competed in the men's novice. The race was a solo-timed event. Harris improved his times with each lap. His final was a one-minute, 32.01 second, beating out Cliff Atkins, crew chief of the Miller Genuine Draft Camaro team.

Harris said he didn't have any difficulties driving the Corvette. The real challenge is taking care of the vehicle so it stays in top racing condition, according to Harris.

"You have to change the motor every season," Harris said. "We go through brakes every two races. You're also rough on the clutch so you have to watch that. The more you take care of the car, the better it will perform."

Wasenko had a very successful season ending up third at the ITGT race in Waterford Hills. With a new motor built by Harris, Wasenko battled bumper to bumper with Dean Bohne (driving the D.J. Racing number 25 Corvette).

From the start to the final two laps, the Gordon/Stewart Corvette attacked the number 25 vehicle with Wasenko passing Bohne at the end of the back stretch going into turn six, finishing third.

Long-time sweethearts

Supervisor, wife share interests, hobbies

BY LAURIE HUMPHREY
MCN Staff Writer

When Canton Township Supervisor Tom Yack was asked who was the sweetest person he knew, he did not even hesitate.

"Barb," he said.

Tom and Barb Yack have been through thick and thin together including raising four children, a variety of job placements and responsibilities, and major medical crises.

"Whether it is a big or small issue, Barb has always been there for me," said Tom Yack. "She constantly puts me before herself."

The pair, who married while in their 20s, feel they have the perfect relationship based on communication and shared decision-making. For instance, it was a joint decision to have Barb Yack stay home to raise their children.

"She gave up 10 years of her life for our kids," said the man. "That was a personnel sacrifice that was not easy. There were times when I stayed home and said this is awful. I'll do anything, but this."

"Whether it is a big or small issue, Barb has always been there for me. She constantly puts me before herself."

Tom Yack

Barb Yack, however, does not consider her former role as a stay-at-home mom a sacrifice.

"We decided it was important," she said. "That's how we make all our decisions - as a unit."

While the children, aged 18 to 22, have long since needed a babysitter, Barb Yack continues to live her life around her husband and her children despite her position at the Canton Senior Place.

"Well, I think the community is lucky to have Tom as their supervisor, and I figure the least I can do to support him is have things ready for him at home."

An accommodating wife, Barb Yack learned to like the same type of sports as her husband. Now, they spend quality time together watching basketball, football and hockey games.

"Good relationships don't happen by magic," she said, "and it's not because I'm a saint that I like the same things he does. It's because he told me how the games were played and what to look for. If you understand, it is more enjoyable."

On the flip side, she has taught him to trust her insight and be more liberal.

"I turn to Barb for insight on people," said the supervisor. "I always count on her for that, because I've ignored it in the past, and she was able to tell me 'I told you so.' Now, I listen."

"It's because he likes everyone," said Barb Yack. "He sees the good in everyone and I'm more cautious."

Aside from supporting her husband in his position of elected leader, Barb Yack honors him as her husband.

The two recently spent a week on a cruise in celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary. To commemorate the trip and their feelings for each other, Barb Yack left an affectionate card on the bed for him each day.

In their 25 years together, 23 of which have been spent in Canton Township, the pair has focused on growing together, while growing independently.

"We have a very interesting relationship because we can work together and work independently, but I never feel disconnected," she said. "I know we have to be flexible because our lifestyles are different."

Tom Yack calls himself a night person, and his wife a morning person, "but she does her best to stay up as late as possible."

"The only thing is she doesn't do is paint, and that is a problem, because I hate to paint," he said with a smile.

"But I found a way to work around that," Barb Yack responded. "I hired a painter."

Sweetest Day Special people honored

More than a half century ago, an Ohio man began the tradition of Sweetest Day by setting aside a time to remember orphans and shut-ins in his community with small gifts. With the help of friends and neighbors, he distributed these gifts on a Saturday in October.

Eventually the day for the gift distribution was set on the third Saturday of October, and came to be known as Sweetest Day.

In time, the idea of boosting the spirit of the underprivileged with gifts was broadened to include everyone, and the day became a time to remember others with acts of kindness or small remembrances.

Today, Sweetest Day is a day to remember loved ones - spouses, parents, children and friends and acquaintances who are important to us. It is hoped that the original meaning of the day has not been lost, and the individuals will continue to remember the "forgotten" people in hospitals and convalescent centers and those who are confined to their homes due to age or illness.

When we interviewed area residents, many of them nominated their spouses for the title of "sweetest" person in their lives. Their stories are included in this salute to Sweetest Day.

Chamber secretary rates high in community

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER

More than one individual who routinely does business with the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce (BACC) nominated its executive secretary, Janet Millard, as the sweetest person in town.

Although Millard was surprised at the nomination, she acknowledged that she does go "the extra mile" for those who contact her for help.

"The chamber is the door to the community. If we don't make a good impression on people and don't serve their needs, it is a poor reflection on the chamber," she said. "I try to always provide information and answer questions. Too often, people are told to call someone else or given another number or name to contact. When I don't have an answer, I tell the person, 'I'll call you back with the information.' I think people are very frustrated by getting the run-around from some firms that they deal with."

Millard said her helpful attitude has been a life-long one.

"I remember my mother telling me that I was like the person living by the side of the road. I don't know exactly how the story goes, but it refers to someone who helps those who pass by their house," Millard said. "If I'm helpful, I guess it is just my personality."

Millard said she was trained well by her business teacher in school.

"I came from a poor school district, but we did have a wonderful clerical teacher. I was taught to give and not to question," Millard said. "Our training was to do our jobs and more."

The BACC executive secretary said she has worked for many large companies and organizations, and always made sure that no one who contacted her went away without an answer.

"Often, in a large company, I was the last person that the individual had talked to, so I had to find an answer," she said.

Millard, who shares office space with the Belleville Enterprise in downtown Belleville, also shares some of her hospitality with the newspaper customers who visit the office.

"Sometimes, Diane (Ferguson) and I double-team them," Millard said. "We're always anxious to help people, and see that their needs are met."

Sweetest couple celebrate 35th anniversary

By JENNIFER PLACINTO
MCN Staff Writer

Westland City Councilwoman Sharon Scott plans to celebrate her 35th wedding anniversary with the sweetest person she knows later this month.

With Sweetest Day just a week before the couple's anniversary, the two plan to celebrate by taking a trip together to Barbados. Her husband, Ted Scott, has already given his wife an anniversary present and it's something Scott said she's always wanted - a cherry-wood bedroom set.

Scott said her husband qualifies as the sweetest person she knows due to his abounding love and concern for his family.

"He's very caring about his family. He always visits his mother and keeps in close contact with his family in Ohio," Scott said, adding that one of the couple's two grandchildren is named after him.

Although the longtime Westland resident said she would not describe her husband as the really romantic type, she said he provides her with everything she needs and is very understanding.

"Anything I want, he gets it for me ... and he puts up with my politics and soup for dinner if I have a busy day. He never complains," Scott said.

The councilwoman met her husband while en route to meet a friend on Ash and Wayne Road in Wayne to go shopping.

"Ted was cruising by with a friend of mine, who happened to be a Wayne fireman and they stopped and talked to me," Scott said.

Scott went shopping with her friend that afternoon and as the two were walking home, they bumped into the men again.

"They picked us up and in about a week or two he called for a date. We've been together ever since," Scott said, adding that the two married six months later.

Scott and husband Ted, a retired Westland Fire Chief, who now works for Wayne County Risk Management, purchased their first home in Westland and have lived in the city ever since.

For Wayne City Manager John Zech, the sweetest person he knows is, of course, his wife, Christine.

"She puts up with me so she's the sweetest person I know," said Zech.

The happy couple has been married for 22 years. They have two sons, Bill, 16, and Jim, 10.

When asked what he likes most about his wife, Zech said he would have to have a few days to express all of the things he enjoys about his partner.

"I guess what I like about her most, however, is that she is my best friend," Zech said.

Edwynna R. Dansby, wife of former police chief dies

Edwynna "Eddie" R. Dansby, 55, wife of former Westland and Romulus Police Chief Fred Dansby, died of pancreatic cancer on Oct. 4, in Saline Community Hospital.

Mrs. Dansby was administrator of academic programs at Schoolcraft College off-site centers, including Schoolcraft College-Radcliff in Garden City.

Born in Detroit, she earned her bachelor's and master's degrees from Eastern Michigan University and her doctorate in higher education administration from the University of Michigan.

Mrs. Dansby joined Schoolcraft College in 1979 as a marketing and applied management teacher. In 1987, she was named the dean of college centers.

Conway A. Jeffress, college vice president of instruction, said, "Her dedication to the college was tempered with a strong commitment for balancing professional and family life. She spoke often of her children and their careers and of the social interests of herself and her husband."

She was a member of the board of directors of the Westland and Garden City Chambers of Commerce, the Garden City Industrial Retention Task Force, University of Michigan Higher Adult and Continuing Education Committee and the American Association of Women in Community and Junior Colleges.

In addition she is survived by two sons, Jeffrey and Gregory Coplai; three stepdaughters, Sharon Jones, Lisa Ingram and Carol Tavormina; 12 grandchildren; her parents, Ruth Truran and Edwin Rose; two sisters and a brother.

Services were conducted at the John N. Santei Funeral Home of Garden City. Interment was in Glen Eden Memorial Park of Livonia.

The family requests that memorials be sent to the Schoolcraft College Foundation, 18600 Haggerty, Livonia, Mich. 48152 or Spirit of Christ Lutheran Church, 40700 W. 10th Mile, Novi, Mich. 48375.

Ed Wood flick opens this weekend

From master filmmaker Tim Burton, the acclaimed director and creator of such original tales as Beetlejuice, Edward Scissorhands and The Nightmare Before Christmas, comes the story of yet another extraordinary character - Ed Wood Jr. (Johnny Depp).

Wood, which opens at theaters this weekend, is an eccentric actor/writer/director with only one thing going for him, an optimistic spirit that remains indomitable, despite his obviously misguided career choices.

The Touchstone Pictures flick is filmed entirely in black and white. Ed Wood is the true story of one man's dogged, albeit futile, determination to make it in Hollywood.

A visionary of sorts, with no formal training, a fetish for wearing women's clothing, and almost no chance of being signed to direct a studio-made feature, Wood tenaciously follows his wayward dream.

Although recognition and respect seem to elude him every step of the way, he never abandons hope of one day becoming a famous director. By banding together a bizarre cast of characters including down-and-out screen legend Bela Lugosi (Martin Landau); television horror queen Vampira (Lisa Marie); hulking Swedish wrestler Tor Johnson (George "The Animal" Steele); psychic showman, Criswell (Jeffrey Jones); highbrow transvestite, the Bunny Breckinridge (Bill Murray); hyperactive police officer, Paul Marco (Max Casella); and his Dolores (Sarah Jessica Parker) Wood creates ineptly-made, off-beat, low-budget independent films that somehow turn out to become classics and turn him into a legend.

Director Tim Burton was instantly drawn to the story of the often misunderstood visionary from the moment he read the treatment by Scott Alexander and Larry Krasznewski.

"I really felt close to him," said Burton. "There's something beautiful about somebody who does what they love to do, no matter how misguided, and remains optimistic and upbeat against all odds."

Alexander and Krasznewski creators of the Problem Child, came up with the idea for an Ed Wood script back when they were freshman roommates at the University of Southern California.

"It was in the early 1980s, right around the time the Medved brothers awarded Wood the Golden Turkey award, that we became interested in his work," said Krasznewski.

"We like to describe Ed Wood as Andy Hardy in a dress," said Alexander. "We were both so fascinated by his colorful character, his gumption and determination. Even when we went on to write other projects after graduation, this one was always in the back of our minds."

Burton was responsible for deciding to make Ed Wood black and white.

"The dilemma was to create a look that combined the best with the worst," Burton said. "I wanted to shoot a classic black and white film with crisp images, rich inky blacks and silvery highlights - and at the same time stay faithful to the blandness of Ed Wood movies."

as to who broke into the building and how the six rounds of ammunition, inconsistent with the weapons use during the training exercise, came to be on the scene.

Brooks said the building in question is scheduled for demolition.

Michael Conway, airport spokesman, revealed late Friday morning, that the exercise by Willow Run Airport Police and the U.S. Department of Defense took place last week under "controlled conditions."

"At no time during the exercise," Conway stressed, "at no time was any live ammunition used during the training exercise and no bullet holes were found in the home on Denton Road in Van Buren Township."

Conway said, "We have sworn statements from both groups that no live ammo was used and that the home was secured after the exercise was completed."

The airport police are continuing their investigation, he said. The probe also is trying to find out who broke into the rear of the home and attempted to kick out the front door of the home, Conway said.

"The only live ammo found was that supplied by the state representative (Whyman)," Conway said, "and the ammo was inconsistent with that used in the training exercise."

Man pulls gun in bar

Angered by a verbal confrontation with a 48-year-old Canton man, Westland resident Gregory Allen Sloup is being accused of assaulting that man with a loaded gun, according to Westland police Sgt. Leonard West.

Sloup, 44, waived his right to preliminary examination before Westland 18th District Judge C. Charles Bokos and was bound over to Detroit Recorder's Court on felonious assault and felony firearms charges. If convicted, the defendant faces up to four years in prison for the assault charge and a mandatory two years in prison for the weapons charge.

The alleged incident occurred around 2:30 a.m. on Sept. 4 when Sloup and the other man had an altercation in the bar at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9885, located at 6440 N. Hix in Westland, according to West.

Sloup allegedly pulled out a loaded 9 mm automatic pistol and "pushed it into the complainant's chest," West said.

Bouffants revived 'Beehive' brings back memories of '60s

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Managing Editor

If you remember the days when cars had "fins," the Twist was a new dance and boys slicked their hair back with "greasy kid stuff," you'll certainly remember the beehive hair-do - teased, piled high and heavily sprayed.

Those are the days re-created on stage at the Gem Theatre in the '60s musical, Beehive, which opened Wednesday night to an enthusiastic audience - most of whom appeared to have first-hand memories of the era.

An amazingly talented group of six high-energy women, backed by an equally high-energy band, sang and danced to the songs of the Supremes, Tina Turner, Aretha Franklin and Patti LaBelle and the Bluebelles.

It was, indeed, a trip down Memory Lane from the opening Shirley Ellis song, The Name Game to the finale with the cast singing Make Your Own Kind of Music, originally recorded by the Mamas and the Papas.

All though the show, it was "woman's night," starting with songs of the female groups of the '60s - The Angels, Chiffons, LaBelle and the Bluebelles, Shirelles, Shangri-las and the most popular of all - The Supremes.

A funny sequence followed, with parodies of the top songs of Leslie Gore, Annette Funicello, Connie Francis and Brenda Lee. Although some members of the audience though the Lee parody was a bit heavy-handed, the other recreations did not seem to cross the line of good, clean fun.

Mary Louise Lee took to the stage with her rendition of The Beat Goes On and provided some thoughtful moments as she related the dramatic events which changed the spirit of America in the '60s - the assassinations of President John F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King Jr., civil unrest during desegregation and the Vietnam War. Events, she said, which caused the country to lose its innocence.

The show then turned to what it described as "the British invasion" with the music of Lulu, Dusty Springfield and Petula Clark.

A big finish was provided by Cheryl Renee with an incredible array of Tina Turner and Aretha Franklin songs.

If you haven't been to the Gem - just across the street from the Fox Theatre - this production could provide a good opportunity for your first visit. There is cabaret seating on the first floor and 250 seats in the balcony with literally not a bad seat in the house.

Shows run Wednesdays through Sundays until Nov. 6 and ticket information is available by call 963-9800.

Father Ray Bucon shares a teardrop

Father Ray Bucon

A while ago I visited a man at Garden City Hospital. Lying flat on his back, he was unable to move because of his illness. He was also unable to speak because of the medical equipment entering and exiting his body.

In spite of these conditions, he was able to communicate. For after I prayed for him and as I prepared to leave his room, he cried for me the gift of a single tear.

"What did this mean?" I asked myself. If it was a tear of pain, I was ready to call the nurse to help find relief. If it was a tear of panic and fright, I wanted to remove these fears and replace them with courage and a will to live.

If it was a tear of frustration at being in the hospital or his inability to speak, I wanted to calm him and tell him it was okay. If it was a tear of loneliness, I wanted to assure him that he wasn't alone in his illness and others pulling for him to get better.

Finding a Kleenex, I gently dabbed at the pool of liquid resting at the base of his eye. As the wetness moved into the Kleenex it bled through and touched my finger. At that moment, I chose to interpret the tear as a "tear of love."

It was a tear of grateful love for the visit and the prayer. It was a tear of hopeful love that conditions would improve and the hospital stay would be brief. And it was a tear of God's love for all of humanity.

St. Mary Catholic Church in Wayne is observing Respect Life Month with other Catholic parishes throughout the U.S. I am saddened that we need to designate a special month to acknowledge the sacredness of life.

We climb a mountain because it is there and calls us. We solve a problem because it is there and challenges us. How terrible if someone leveled all the mountains and removed all the problems.

Let us become a society that is able to see value in every human life. For as we move in this direction, I believe our own tears will become tears of joy.

Editor's note: Father Raymond Bucon, ordained in 1979, is presently in his sixth year as pastor of St. Mary Catholic Church. St. Mary's was founded in 1862 and today consists of 2,100 families. The parish elementary school consists of 255 students and accepts student from all surrounding communities. This column is the beginning of a special religious series which will be placed in the Sunday edition of the Michigan Com- munity Newspapers. Various leaders in the many religious faiths throughout the western Wayne County communities will be asked by the editorial staff to provide a guest column.

TAKE TWO FOR THE RELIEF OF PAIN.

A Chiropractors' two hands are the best "medicine" you can take for the relief of pain.

Unlike analgesics, muscle relaxants, or other pain killers, which only mask your symptoms and give you temporary relief Chiropractic adjustments work to correct the cause of your pain, which in many cases care vertebral misalignments, or what we call "subluxations".

O'DELL CHIROPRACTIC LIFE CENTER
1214 WAYNE RD., WESTLAND, MI 48185 • 728-8100

These subluxations cause nerve impingement that can result in pain (sometimes severe) in the back, neck, shoulders, arms, and legs.

With Chiropractic care, you don't have to live with pain and you don't have to mask the symptoms.

Call our office for an appointment today and get natural, drug-free, long-lasting pain relief with Chiropractic adjustments.
